

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

An adventure, according to Webster's dictionary, is "that which happens without design."

By that definition, the British writer Geoffrey Household is the purest adventure-story writer in the business. All his novels and stories are about "that which happens without design."

The reason, of course, is Household's own experience. He has led a life of pure, unadulterated adventure, never knowing or even caring what was going to happen next.

As he tells it in his autobiography "Against the Wind" (Little, Brown) he had no idea of what to do with himself when he graduated from Oxford. The father of a friend of his was a director of the Ottoman Bank. So, at 22, Household went to Roumania as a bank clerk.

He Fell in Love

He stayed there four years, then was offered a transfer to Persia. But he had fallen in love with a young American Jewish girl who didn't want to go to Persia, so he declined. Instead, he got a job as traveling salesman for a banana importing firm.

He ran the company's office in Bilbao, Spain, for a while, but meanwhile he had started to write and sent a bundle of short stories to a New York agent. Through some misunderstanding he thought the stories had been sold and promptly resigned his job to set up shop as a freelance writer. Then he learned the agent had refused the stories.

He went to America anyway, spent a couple of years doing literary hack work in Hollywood and New York, then returned to England. He put an ad in The Times, describing himself as "an Englishman with no national prejudices." This brought him a job as a travelling salesman for a printing ink firm and he spent several years in South America.

Life as an Author

Then one day a nephew of the managing director claimed his job and got it. There was nothing left for Household but to settle down to life as an author.

When the Second World War broke out, he volunteered his services. "At my first visit to the War Office I well remember wondering whether I had or had not the impudence to list Roumanian among my languages. But it was absurd to admit that one had lived in a country for four years and been content to know enough to call a cab. Still hesitating, I scribbled the nine letters. So small and insignificant and unnoticed an act decided the pattern of six years of my life and therefore all the far course of it."

He became a British intelligence officer in the Middle East, gaining valuable background material for many of his later novels and stories. His recent book of brilliant stories, "The Brides of Solomon" (Little, Brown) is set in South America, Greece, Spain, Egypt, Syria and a dozen other exotic places.

In one of the stories the hero states his philosophy of life. "I have never made a choice for myself more than any other man. Choice? There is no such thing. One follows events, and gets out of the mess as best one can."

Easing of Load Rule Asked by Truckers

Tax relief and an easing of load restrictions imposed by the new department of commercial transport was asked yesterday in a brief to cabinet by the B.C. Loggers' Association and the Truck Loggers' Association.

But a few hours later in a radio broadcast Transport Minister Lyle Wicks said the government will see there are no overload abuses, and that the non-highway users, the private car owners and the commercial vehicles each pay a fair share of highway costs.

The loggers' associations asked that overweight fees be placed on a monthly basis; that used primarily for access to logging operations be reclassified to permit larger loads in hauling logs, and that charges for crossing highways be completely eliminated.

The loggers told cabinet that since their brief was prepared, they had learned there had been some easing of overweight fees, to be collected on a semi-monthly basis instead of a daily basis, and this provided one-half the relief which was sought on that point.

Mr. Wicks said that sometimes it is argued that loads of 40, 50 and 60 tons do not damage the highways. "In a few cases this may be true," he said.

But "it costs a lot more to build them so that they aren't damaged by these loads — so why should you pay the extra shot?" he asked his radio audience.

"During past months you have heard a lot about the rights of one group or another. It's about time that the public interest came first," he said.

Rock 'n' Roll's Big Daddy-O Pushed Off Air

NEW YORK—Disc jockey Alan Freed, the big daddy-o of rock 'n' roll who already had been silenced on radio, was assisted off television "by mutual agreement."

Insisting both verbally and in writing that he had never taken "payola," Freed said that he had long been unhappy over the way New York station WNEW-TV was handling his six-day-a-week Big Beat Show.

"We had discussions several weeks ago about terminating our contract, long before there was any publicity about payola (bribes to play records)," he said.

MIAMI—The attempt to return former president Marcos Perez Jimenez to Venezuela for trial, already tangled in legal red tape, got enmeshed in some red ribbon. The defence attorney objects to the way a red ribbon threaded through a sheath of legal documents from Caracas did not go through all the pages in the bound sheath.

JERUSALEM—Political sources say there is a possibility Mrs. Golda Meir may quit as Israel's foreign minister.

LONDON—Edward Athol Oakley, 59, former British heavyweight wrestling champion, became a baronet.

LONDON—Sir Winston Churchill's military judgment was "frequently and massively at fault," yet he tried to make others shoulder the blame during the Second World War, says British historian John Connell in biography "Auchinleck."

Opponents Warn View Royal

'Village' Means Taxes Jump

Incorporation as a village would increase View Royal taxes "by 50 per cent or more in the first year of operation," an opposition group claimed yesterday.

William Hollick, spokesman for the group, said the increase will be necessary to "maintain the standard of local services we are now receiving from the provincial government."

Fire Chief Al Beasley agrees.

STUDIED OTHERS

The group studied operations in other municipalities before arriving at a figure of $80,000 for first-year operations.

Mr. Hollick described as "unrealistic" the tentative budget of $46,000 proposed by the group promoting incorporation. He said in a prepared statement: "View Royal ratepayers (should) not be fooled by incorporation."

The department of municipal affairs is holding a vote Thursday to determine if a minimum of 60 per cent of ratepayers who cast ballots want a village municipality.

TAX JUMP

Mr. Hollick said the survey showed ratepayers will have to meet a $27,000 tax jump in order to duplicate present services under their own village administration.

"The provincial government," Mr. Hollick said, "is operating the district of View Royal efficiently at very low cost to the taxpayer. Why should we the taxpayers go into debt because a few people want to incorporate View Royal as a village?"

Mr. Beasley said "there is no reason at all for us to stick out our necks for a scheme of this kind."

ROAD CLEARANCE

One of his big points against the proposal is the matter of road clearance in winter, he said. The matter is now being handled satisfactorily by the public works department of the provincial government, but if View Royal incorporates, equipment would have to be purchased or rented "which is entirely out of the question."

Interest and payments on the present loan, he charged, have not been included in estimates given by the village investigating committee for operation of the fire department.

Adjust the Base

WITHIN the last two sessions the federal government has introduced and implemented an Estates Tax Act which is a considerable improvement on the former Succession Duty Act which it supplants. A year's notice of intention was given, and the measure when passed in parliament had the benefit of a nation-wide canvass of those dealing with estates and trusts. If something of the same course could be followed in simplifying and bringing more up to date some features of the Income Tax Act that would go far towards removing inequities which have grown in what is the most widely applicable impost affecting the general public.

If higher rates of income taxation are to be resorted to at the coming session, and that has been strongly hinted in treasury circles, some attention should be given to a review of the basic exemptions as they have stood for some years now. Obviously if the Dominion needs more revenue it will have to come from somewhere, but to superimpose higher tax rates after the existing level of exemptions would be to ignore the fact that these exemptions have been badly outdated.

The $2,000 exemption for married couples was recently improved by permissive tax-free earnings up to $250 per annum on the part of one partner; but $2,000 is not the equivalent in the home today that it was ten years ago. Similarly the $1,000 exemption for single individuals—including widows and spinsters—takes little account of the actual costs of living in contrast with a steady fall in the purchasing power of the dollar.

At present levels, the basic exemptions could be compared unfavorably with assistance given by the state to individuals who have neither income nor jobs. Notice the food bills alone of an ordinary household that go over the counter of retail establishments in the course of a single month, and Canada's basic tax exemption on earnings or other income could hardly be called generous. In the light of today's living costs, $2,400 for married couples and $1,200 for single individuals would be much more realistic.

There are other points of course in connection with any updating of the present Income Tax Act as a result of the complex conditions of postwar years, but the basic tax exemptions stand out as anomalous in view of the present value of money. Certainly if income tax rates are to be increased some means will need to be found to save the lowest income groups from paying a disproportionate share of that adjustment.

Not Much Clearer

THE latest word on civil defence comes direct from the Prime Minister. It seems to be a compromise, splitting the difference between evacuation and staying at home in a shelter. Presumably this is the result of changing concepts. Hitherto all the weight of authority was thrown behind evacuation.

At best it is an "iffy" business, and if people are bewildered by the options open to them so doubtless is Ottawa itself. Hence the compromise. There will be no compulsory evacuation but it is expected that in anticipation of peril some people will want to flee to some other place. Where to exactly is not clear, or what they are to do when they get there. There will perhaps be wonder about the degree of peril that is inducement enough to pack up and move, and if a potential aggressor will be so considerate as to send a warning in advance. Otherwise when does one decide it is safer to leave than to stay?

The Prime Minister says provision should be made for those who decide to evacuate, but there is no hint of who will undertake this task.

There is a proviso also that key personnel will have to stay behind, which supposedly means an examination of some sort before people can have permission to move. One hopes that come any such day of emergency there is lots of time to sort out the sheep and the goats.

For those who will stay behind at all costs a shelter is recommended, and the government shortly will issue a pamphlet on how to build a cheap one. A nation can spend a fortune on ships and guns, but when it comes to home defence it is up to the individual—he must buy his own. There will be joint federal-provincial-municipal surveys about large-scale shelters, which doubtless will take a long time.

Without prejudice to the Prime Minister—for civil defence is a knotty problem and no nation has solved it yet—no great clarity is added to the civil defence picture by his announcement. He says properly however that the problem is "under constant examination." So it has been for the past ten years at least without, one fears, dissipating the confusion that still surrounds it.

Opportunity

ALTHOUGH the undertaking is conditional upon an agreed agenda and what the several provinces may consent to respecting an audience for representatives of their municipalities, civic governments have about nine months in which to prepare their appeal for reassessment of municipal revenues and obligations. The prime minister has indicated that the municipal case will be heard if the provinces agree, and has long been on record as stating the municipalities would be brought into consultation in federal-provincial matters. The difficulty facing civic administrations is that the length of provincial submissions may curtail their opportunity.

Obviously the thousands of municipalities across Canada cannot all be granted audience at any joint federal-provincial conference. By making his statement to the association of mayors, Mr. Diefenbaker no doubt has recognized this body in that connection. His reminder that municipalities are the care of the provinces draws an administrative line. The municipalities through their own organizations would be well advised to prepare and be ready to present a composite case; one dealing with their basic and common needs, as opposed to regional differentiation. There will not likely be time for a blizzard of separate briefs.

Reds in Indonesia

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

COMMUNIST China is showing more signs of being an apt student of the old Kremlin school of international diplomacy.

This is the school that, until Soviet Premier Khrushchev introduced his latest peace campaign, specialized in keeping the fire burning throughout the world.

To do this, one emergency after another was sparked following the end of the war—trouble in Europe, in the Middle East, in the Far East. Then back to trouble in Europe.

As soon as the ashes of one crisis cooled, another was being fanned.

Now that Khrushchev's peace drive has gained momentum, Russia has been soft-pedalling, although not necessarily backing down on, many of the issues that before had caused it to throw the gauntlet in the West's face.

There has been no soft-pedalling by Peking, however. Communist China has been coming through loudly, clearly and aggressively on the international scene. In the last two years, Red China has been at the root of three major international crises: Quemoy-Matsu, Tibet and the Indian-Chinese border disputes. Now a fourth one may be in the making in troubled Indonesia.

Peking's excuse for turning on Indonesia was that country's order, issued last May, that Chinese merchants, who dominate the island republic's rural economy, sell out and move to designated cities by Jan. 1.

Now, seven months after the order was issued, Peking has termed it unfriendly and accused Indonesia of pushing an "anti-Chinese movement." It could seriously harm friendly relations between the two countries unless withdrawn, the Red Chinese Embassy said.

The Indonesian foreign office said the move was necessary because Chinese merchants could and did upset the national economy by their control over goods and prices.

Indonesia is not ready to sacrifice the economic welfare of 88,000,000 Indonesians to protect a "small group" of Chinese traders, Foreign Minister Subandrio said.

SOME songs hold their place through succeeding generations. The top hits of current eras enjoy a brief spotlight and then pass, leaving nothing behind, while old favorites come easily to the lips of growing youngsters. They seem to absorb them as a birthright.

Such a one is "Loch Lomond," which transcends time and race. It must be one of the most popular of all airs, I suppose, and at least where English-speaking tongues are concerned it is sure to belong to the singing memory. People all over the world, including those to whom a "loch" may have a foreign and unfamiliar sound, know it well.

It is of course a folk-song, and so it tells a story; or, in other guise, it has a meaning. Folk-songs are unlike ordinary songs strung together to catch a temporary spot on the record parade; they have something to say.

A piece I was reading the other day suggests however that the real essence of "Loch Lomond" is often lost by those who, especially when engaging in community song, just shake the rafters by affirming the beauty of the lake's bonnie banks.

These are lovely in all conscience, as all visitors to Loch Lomond would doubtless agree, but the song is not a tourist slogan.

It reflects in fact an old Celtic belief, one common to Ireland, Wales and Brittany as well as Scotland, that when a man meets death in a foreign land his spirit returns to the place of his birth by an underground fairy route—the Low Road.

The song itself was written in the period following the '45, and it tells of two Scots soldiers wounded and captured and flung into an English gaol.

One of them was to be released and so would take the overland route—the High Road—back to safety and home. The other, who was to be executed, would take the Low Road.

Release and execution of the two prisoners were timed for the same hour and so the Dead, travelling by the Low Road with the speed of a spirit, would be in Scotland before the Living. The latter, having to walk, had a long weary journey along the High Road before he could cross the border and reach his loch's bonnie banks.

Another version of this story, one I like best, is that the sweetheart of the condemned man visited him in prison, and that she is the person to whom the songster sings his farewell. This is much more romantic, naturally, and if we thought of the lad and his lass while singing the song there would be more feeling to our rendition.

Folk-songs should always be sung with tenderness and awareness of what they are all about, rather than be rattled off mechanically without understanding. So, when next you sing "The Bonnie Banks o' Loch Lomond," remember that this song echoes an ancient belief, one not to be despised even when sputniks take a high road to the skies. There are no "bonnie banks up there anyway."

Reports from Ottawa

SOME of the brightest of back-bench Conservative MPs failed to win a berth on the government's second string, the "junior cabinet" of parliamentary secretaries.

Some young Tory MPs of whom Prime Minister Diefenbaker is said to be personally fond also failed to place—for example, Douglas Jung, the Chinese-Canadian from Vancouver, and Donald MacInnis, the coal miner from Cape Breton.

So if neither ability nor pull was the deciding factor, how did Diefenbaker select the 15 men to assist—and in a sense to understudy—members of the cabinet?

In the first place, it would have been difficult for him to pass over those MPs who were parliamentary assistants two years ago. So seven of the new secretaries are former incumbents.

But the real answer, as is evident in the appointment and appointment of the eight new boys, is politics in an even broader sense. The prime considerations appear to have been area representation and racial and religious representation—the same considerations that govern appointments to the cabinet and the Senate. The 15 one-year jobs, worth $4,000 and expenses, are being used to strengthen the administration in preparation for its next encounter with the voters.

In selecting parliamentary aides on a political basis, the PM by no means came up with a list which can be seriously questioned on grounds of intelligence or ability. For the most part the men chosen are able, conscientious MPs.

But in my judgment the list would have been different if ability had been the only or even the prime criterion.

For example, the man I would select as best fitted to be parliamentary aide to the prime minister is Heath MacQuarrie, MP from Prince Edward Island, noted political scientist, educationist and expert on international affairs.

Instead, Diefenbaker chose Paul Martineau, an undistinguished young Quebec MP. Martineau graduated in law only 10 years ago, and then accepted a political appointment as a Crown prosecutor. Such appointments are Union Nationale Party patronage. The job made him in effect Premier Duplessis' chief agent in the Quebec section of the Upper Ottawa Valley.

The appointment of MacQuarrie would have been a brilliant one. But perhaps the Tories do not have a political need to butter up P.E.I., whereas the appointment of a French-Canadian to be the PM's assistant will help them in Quebec.

Another natural choice for a parliamentary secretaryship, I would have thought, is Erik Nielsen, the MP from the Yukon. This consideration of the emphasis the government has put on encouraging the economic and social development of the northern frontier.

But Nielsen was left at the post. So were other able Tory MPs like Jung, Frank McGee of Toronto and Art Smith of Calgary. However, none of these younger MPs need take offence at being overlooked. The appointments are for one year only. And any back-bencher who works hard enough, obeys orders and stays in line can almost count on being a parliamentary secretary at one time or another during the course of the normal four-year life of a Parliament. This currently applies, of course, only to Tory MPs.

This is a political carrot that would have done credit to Mackenzie King.

Two of a Kind

(From The Ottawa Journal)

CERTAIN people profess outrage over President Eisenhower's decision to call upon Spain's General Franco.

What an odd mentality!

All well and good, apparently, to call on the Communist Khrushchev, to fraternize with him, try to co-exist with him; all bad, outrageous, to call on the Fascist Franco, to as much as pass the time of day with him.

Yet the people of this warped thought usually call themselves "liberals," are forever talking about "tolerance," about "one world"; the sort who read the New York Nation or the New Republic, or perhaps the "liberal" New York Post.

No one who believes in freedom or in parliamentary democracy, who hates violence and cruelty, can have much use for Franco. But by the same token none of us who believes in freedom can have much use for Khrushchev.

What confronts us, however, is the cold reality that, our world being what it is, we have to try to co-exist in some way with both of these gentlemen, knowing that our choice may well be between co-existence or no existence.

We can't accept one and damn the other! Fraternize with the Communist Khrushchev and consign to utter darkness the Fascist Franco.

People who say we should do that are neither liberals nor democrats; they are just bigoted, fanatical, doctrinaire ideologists.

Handy-Sized Whiffets

By GREGORY CLARK

WE pint-sized men are secretly pleased to hear these new small motor cars being called compact cars.

It is very pleasant to feel oneself compact instead of pee-wee. On our drivers licences, hunting licences and insurance identity cards, it is going to be nice from now on to put "compact" in the space formerly reserved for 5 foot 3 or thereabouts. We assume that from now on, novelists and writers of romance will refer to us not as small men but as compact men, even if we have to play the villain's role, which so often falls to our lot.

Maybe not the chief villain, who is usually described as heavy-built, but his assistants, the minor villains.

As a matter of fact, compact is a word that should have come into popular usage long ago to describe us handy-sized little whiffets. The dictionary says compact means "joined or packed together, closely and firmly united; dense, solid." If you look at us closely, you will see this is so. We have all the same limbs, parts and organs as larger specimens of our kind, but they are not so loosely thrown together. We're snug.

There is no waste of space about us, as there usually is in large men. Why a man has to jack himself up on four-foot legs has always been a mystery to us compact types. We fit into life so much more neatly.

It is going to be fun for us to watch the uncompact majority of mankind trying to be comfortable in these new, modern and eminently sensible compact cars.

Political Minuet

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

THE Nixon-Rockefeller contest for the 1960 Republican Presidential nomination is becoming one of the most polite death grapples in the history of American politics.

These calm and able young men are trying to pat each other on the back so vigorously as to fracture the spinal cord.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller invades Richard M. Nixon's home state of California—and then tells the customers what a very fine Republican the Vice-President really is.

Nixon's friends in Rockefeller's home state, New York, are repaying this consideration with an elaborate outward courtesy which covers a fist of steel.

This is the exact if unstated purpose of the formation of "New Yorkers for Nixon." Nixon's national associates publicly take the line that those nice fellows up in New York simply did this on their own.

But these amiable mutterings from Nixon headquarters will fool nobody. And, of course, they are not really intended to do so.

The creation of "New Yorkers for Nixon" could readily be seen as a tit-for-tat retort to Rockefeller's foray into Nixonland in California. This is not quite the case. Or, rather, this interpretation both understates and oversimplifies the New York purposes of the Nixonites.

Actually, they are going far beyond any mere tit-for-tat business. They have set up in New York a Nixon lodgment that is meant to suggest that the nominating game is over already. ("New Yorkers for Nixon," by the way, also has a strong Wall Street flavor. This is to remind various people that not all of Wall Street is necessarily pro-Rockefeller.)

"New Yorkers for Nixon" stoutly deny any plot whatever to "corral delegates"—that is, to wrest nominating votes at next year's GOP convention away from Rockefeller in Rockefellerland. They are, they say, "simply providing a platform from which New Yorkers can express and mobilize their support of Dick Nixon."

This is only another way of implying that there just is "no need to 'corral delegates' in New York—that Nixon is as good as nominated now. So the only real question now, it is suggested, is to rally for Nixon's 1960 campaign against the Democrats.

It is also another way of making it difficult for Rockefeller openly to contest with Nixon for convention delegates in California. When the front-runner grandly disdains any designs on Rockefeller's home state, why should not Rockefeller show equal magnanimity?

Moreover, old political custom makes it bad manners for one Presidential aspirant to go into another's home state in naked rivalry. Rockefeller has come very close to just that by his California sortie. Organization Republicans (who also are mostly pro-Nixon Republicans) will increasingly deplore this sort of thing.

The "neutral" GOP National Chairman, Senator Thruston Morton, has already expressed pious hope that Rockefeller won't push the thing to a "disruptive" head-on contest with Nixon in California. Morton is "neutral"—in favor of Nixon. He adds sagely that while, of course, he has no partiality, "Vice-President Nixon is substantially ahead of Rockefeller."

A skeptical onlooker might even say that this Nixon-Rockefeller minuet is not so genial on the inside as on the outside. All the same, the minuet's decorous form is steadfastly maintained.

The Republicans make many mistakes. But one mistake they leave solely to the Democrats: They don't allow fighting among themselves to get so out of hand as to make the opposition party the only possible gainer.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Among the many reasons for being thankful to Alexander Graham Bell is the fact that half the fun of a vacation lies in getting away from his invention.

An Englishman and a Scotsman were playing golf. After the first hole, the Englishman turned to his Scottish friend.

"How many did you take?" he asked.

"Eight," replied the Scotsman. "I took seven, so that's my hole," said the Englishman.

After the second hole, the Englishman asked the same question. This time the Scotsman shook his head.

"Na, na, laddie," he replied, "it's mae turn to ask first now."

An army officer had dictated a letter to the young secretary in which the words "intelligence officer" were used twice. The secretary, not used to army titles, typed "intelligent officer."

The officer who had dictated the letter roared at the little secretary. "Look at this! Whoever heard of an intelligent officer!"

On the Watch

We read of more salary adjustments for provincial civil servants. Now Ontario has followed B.C. and Quebec in awakening to the fact that their employees are also normal human beings who have to live.

It is indeed pleasing to see some people in responsible positions willing to size up their situation, and do something about it, without crying poverty.

A very recent report from the department of labor states that corporations used to be controlled by stockholders, but today control has been taken over by insiders, such as professional managers and directors. In the past 10 years 60 per cent of all new industrial capital came out of the corporations' own profits. Does this not indicate who is really making the money these days? We also read of the rising national economy. But in spite of this wonderful picture, federal civil servants still have to stand back and cry out for crumbs. Each time a salary adjustment is required to meet the living standard of the day, we must plead for a year or two and produce undisputable figures to substantiate what is actually before everyone's very eyes.

How much longer are federal civil servants going to be the goats? Is our proposed Bill of Rights really going to embrace us all? or all except federal civil servants. Federal civil servants are still waiting, and rest assured they will be watching our elected members of parliament in January.

Put It in Pop

I see it is now claimed that tea contains a quiet considerable amount of sodium fluoride. As the majority of Victorians drink tea daily, why, in heavens name, should the city pay close to $50,000 a year to add it to the water supply?

If there is a sufficiency of the stuff in tea made from the water as is, then surely there must be some danger of an overdose to tea drinkers if fluoridated water is used.

To the argument that fluoridation is for the children and they don't drink tea, the answer is why not put the stuff in what they do drink, namely pop and leave the water supply alone.

J. E. MATTHEWS.

Free Fluoride

May I quote from the report made out by the City of New York department of water supply, staffed by scientists who have studied fluoridation for over 20 years and rejected it.

"No one has shown proof that the ingestion of fluoride can be of benefit to the teeth beyond the formative years of childhood. Because of this, and for reasons of safety and economy, this department has proposed that the city distribute fluoride tablets through health centres, free of charge, for parents to administer to children. The cost to the city ascertained at less than 25 cents for a thousand days for each child would be less than one-fifth of the cost of a fluoridated water program. This would provide an exact procedure, under control and applied only to those who benefit by it."

This and the manufacture of fluoride-toothpaste and fluoride mouth-washes should take ample care of the needs of those who are partial to fluorides, without being so hard on the already very heavily burdened taxpayer.

Mao Tries to Block East-West Parley

LONDON (UPI) — Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung is trying to sabotage an East-West summit conference for the second time, diplomatic dispatches reported yesterday.

Mao succeeded in blocking a summit conference in August, 1958, after an emergency meeting in Peking with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and now is slowing down Russian pressure for an early summit meeting.

Communist affairs experts said behind Peking's desire to thwart a top-level East-West meeting was a suspicion of independent Soviet moves at Red China's expense.

HERE'S Corvair BY CHEVROLET WITH ENGINE IN THE REAR

WHERE IT BELONGS
IN A COMPACT CAR

We could have made Chevrolet's new Corvair just a "sawed-off" version of a big car—but that was the sort of shortcut we didn't want to take.

We knew the engine had to go in the rear if we wanted a compact car with big car ride, big car room, big car performance—and maximum efficiency. And that called for the most drastic revolution in auto design and manufacturing Canada has ever seen. What does a rear engine mean to you as driver or passenger?

MORE SPACE—The floor is virtually flat. The short "opposed six" engine takes up less space, leaves more for passengers. And the whole car can be lower without sacrificing either road clearance or head room.

FAR BETTER RIDE—A rear-engined car has to have full independent suspension on all four wheels. Every wheel can sop up a bump without affecting any other—and there's no heavy unsprung rear axle to bounce or "jackhammer" over rough roads. So the ride is far softer—and the wheels cling to the pavement better.

GREATER TRACTION—Rear wheels carry more weight, get a better "bite". (Try a Corvair on mud, snow, ice, rain-wet asphalt; you'll be astounded by the difference in road-grip and control.)

BETTER BRAKING—Most front-engined compact cars do up to 72% of their braking with the front wheels (there's a severe weight transfer forward in emergency stops). Corvair is designed to put an almost equal brake load on every wheel; the rear end maintains solid, sure traction for smooth, straightline stops in virtually any situation.

LESS NOISE, LESS HEAT—Engine noise, engine heat, engine fumes are behind the passengers; they're carried away by the wind stream as you drive. There's no driveshaft vibration to be echoed up into the car, nor resonance from a long exhaust pipe under the floor.

LESS MAINTENANCE—Corvair's air-cooled engine never needs antifreeze, never boils in the hottest weather. It warms up quicker in cold weather, so there's much less cold-start wear—and the stroke is so short that there's far less cylinder wear, less load on bearings and piston pins.

BETTER HANDLING—Corvair's "flat" engine and lower floor gets the centre of gravity "way down"; it rides rock-solid through the tightest turns. The front end doesn't pack the dead weight of an engine—so steering is light as a feather, will never need power assistance. (And how you'll relish that in tiny parking spaces!)

LESS NEEDLESS WEIGHT—A rear engine pares off so much bulk and dead weight. Corvair's power plant is mostly aluminum to begin with. And it's air-cooled—no need for a radiator, water pump, hoses or even the weight of the water itself. (And there's an added plus here; we designed a gas-fired car heater* that gives warmth almost instantly on the coldest winter mornings.)

No need for a long, heavy drive-shaft, either. And engine, transmission, and rear axle are all bolted together into one solid power unit (a competent mechanic can take the whole works out in less than half an hour). All in all, we save literally hundreds of pounds, and that makes a whopping big difference in performance and in gasoline economy.

THE RIGHT ANSWER—Real understanding of how wonderfully right a rear engine is for a compact car can only come after you have driven a Corvair—and compared it with its competitors. It took a terrific amount of engineering and Chevrolet's tremendous resources to design, test and set up production on a precedent-shattering car like Corvair. But wait till the first time you get behind the wheel—you'll agree it was worth every penny and every hour!

More Than Russia, Expert Says

China World Threat

QUEBEC CITY (UPI)—China is a greater threat to the peace of the world than Russia can be, Dr. Felix Houphouet-Boigny, prime minister of the French Ivory Coast Republic said last night.

This Chinese threat was one of several reasons why the Ivory Coast's 3,200,000 population backing France's President Charles de Gaulle supported French plans to explode an atomic bomb in the Sahara, the African republic prime minister said.

Houphouet-Boigny is presently on a tour of Canada and the United States.

"France must have her own nuclear bombs just as America and England if we, of the western world, are to maintain a balance against our possible foes who already have that dreadful formula," he added.

Houphouet-Boigny said his country has 25,000 Frenchmen within its fold, had always and will continue to oppose a united Africa because such a policy would open the door to China's overflow of population.

"We have no illusions because we believe that a united Africa would become an easier ground to Communist infiltration, not as much from Russia as from China," Houphouet-Boigny said.

"We are presently the battle-front of two ideologies and oppose this because we have fought ourselves for so long to obtain our own freedom and recognition," he added.

"Within the next 50 years, the great challenge to the free world will come from China, not from Soviet Russia," he added.

Houphouet-Boigny said his country wanted a world-wide policy of understanding and of co-operation—the great fraternity of mankind of people who want to live their own lives in complete freedom of thought, expression and activities.

"We have no fear of colonial conquest, there is no racial segregation amongst us, but we have no illusions because we know we are the target between two ideologies although everyone knows we are on the side of freedom," he added.

Huge Sums of Money 'Lost' Before Machine Took Tolls

TORONTO (CP) — Huge sums of money, tolls at the Jacques Cartier Bridge at Montreal, are missing, but no prosecutions are likely.

The Globe and Mail's Ottawa dispatch said RCMP and other government officials have spent months checking every possible angle of what federal officials believe to be a shortage of "many hundreds of thousands of dollars in toll collections."

The officials have found a substantial difference between collections in September and October this year — after a fully automatic toll collection system had been installed — and lower amounts in the same months a year ago when tolls were collected by National Harbors Board employees, the newspaper says. The amount of traffic in the months was estimated at about the same.

The newspaper said "one official who has seen some of the preliminary estimates of losses said they were fantastic. There is no way of knowing how long the drain on the tolls had been going on."

Home Schooling Wins

Parents Rebel Against 'Life Adjustment' Classes

STILLWATER, Minn. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kral yesterday won a fight to keep their 8-year-old son out of school and teach him himself without a "life adjustment" and "play school" atmosphere.

Judge Carl Gustafson dismissed a case brought against the Kral by the state, in which the parents were charged with violating the state compulsory school attendance law.

The Kral, of rural Hastings, removed their son, Tommy, from the school last year and taught him themselves. Both parents are college graduates, and Kral is a mathematician.

Gustafson ruled the state failed to prove that Tommy's home education did not fulfill the requirements of a private school.

Young Tommy was in court today under a subpoena, but did not testify. He spent his time diagramming Latin sentences and reading two textbooks.

The state brought court action last year, shortly after the Kral took Tommy out of school on grounds modern education placed too much emphasis on "life adjustment" courses and a "play school" atmosphere.

The Kral gained so much sympathy and notoriety that other parents in the area asked that their children be included among Tommy's classmates.

Just about the nicest gift any husband ever thought of

And just about the nicest gift any wife or family ever received. It's different, exciting and its pleasure increases every day. And it's so easy to give an extension phone. You can pick up a gift-boxed phone at the Telephone Company, already to put under the tree. Or, for Christmas secrecy, have it delivered to your office. The extension phone will be installed, free of charge, shortly after Christmas.

How to give an Extension Phone for Christmas:

The only charge is for regular telephone service, each month — $1.25 (free installation). One of the attractive features of this gift of service is that you may give it for as long a period as you wish. Many people give it for 1 year. This would come to $15.00. You may pre-pay this or have the $1.25 added to your own telephone bill each month. An especially lovely gift is a coloured extension phone. To give this, there is an additional one-time charge of $12.00. This may also be paid by installment charges on your own telephone bill.

U.S. Commanders In Turkey Fired

ROME (UPI)—The United States has ordered the commanders of all American units at the Izmir, Turkey, NATO base relieved of their posts following protests over mistreatment of American enlisted men by Turkish secret police, it was learned Monday.

Thirteen U.S. Army and Air Force officers were ordered relieved following the ouster of 10 other U.S. officers and non-commissioned officers.

Most of the group had protested against the treatment by Turkish police of four U.S. enlisted men arrested last August on charges of illegal currency dealings.

American officers had also charged that the U.S. state department and Pentagon had been unwilling to do anything about the mistreatment of the enlisted men. Observers felt that both the U.S. and Turkish governments tried to minimize the case because of Western defence needs in strategic Turkey.

At least two of the enlisted men charged they had been beaten and held in a dungeon.

Red Tape Blocks Technical Help

OTTAWA (CP)—There is so much red tape in obtaining security clearances among Canada, Britain and the United States that exchange of technical information is suffering, says the Canadian Aeronautical Institute.

"The whole business of international clearances is so complicated that it presents a real barrier to the exchange of technical information," the institute says in the current issue of its monthly publication.

He's Here Someplace

An English epigram of early Tudor days says only a wily mouse can breed in a cat's ear. This wily mouse brings a cross-eyed look to a year-old Siamese, pet of Mrs. W. J. Penny of Burnaby. The cat was to compete in a mouser competition.

Bank's Error $4,000,000

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP)—Unless the Hadley Falls Trust Company comes to terms with a small segment of the U.S. air force, the quarters of Sgt. James Walsh will be graced with a novel decoration—the bank's cheque for $4,000,022.75. The terms are clear cut.

The sergeant's wife was given the cheque when she applied for a mere $22.75. The bank wants it returned, after firing the teller who composed it on a cheque-writing machine.

Customer Keeping Big Cheque

Mrs. Walsh says the bank can have it back if it rehires the author, Miss Ann Helliwell. "If I have to keep it," she said, "I'll frame it."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Walsh has transferred her banking to another institution.

At the moment, the cheque is not only out of circulation, but out of the country. Sgt. Walsh took it with him on a round trip flight to Goose Bay, Labrador, and he isn't expected back until Wednesday night. He is on his wife's side. "He took it with him," said Mrs. Walsh, "because he felt I might give in to the bank and return it."

Meanwhile, Miss Helliwell, employed by the bank five years, is in a state of shock, in a doctor's care.

The bank didn't appear to be resting comfortably, although banking authorities said there was virtually no possibility of cashing such a cheque.

Two Children Die in Lake

LILLOOET (CP)—RCMP said two young Indian children were drowned in the waters of Chillihill Lake, 20 miles southeast of here, Sunday despite attempts by their mother to reach them across thin ice.

Delicate Heart Case

Six-Hour Surgery Done by Hypnosis

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg doctor bent over a 15-year-old girl on an operating room table Saturday in St. Boniface Hospital and said: "It's all over dear. You're fine now."

Slowly Geraldine Jackson opened her eyes, smiled and replied, "You're a nice doctor."

She was awake after a delicate six-hour heart operation performed while under hypnosis—an operation that doctors hope will give her a normal life. Yesterday, Geraldine was sitting up in her hospital bed.

Through new medical techniques and new instruments, she had no pain or recollections of the tedious six hours the doctors spent repairing a heart defect that was restricting her body to about one-third of its normal capacity and robbing her of a chance for normal life.

Austria Raps CBC Show

OTTAWA (CP)—The Austrian embassy here said Monday it has launched "a categorical protest" against a CBC television program depicting an Austrian village still in Nazi control long after the Second World War.

The external affairs department said it has passed the protest along to the CBC after advising the embassy that the government is not responsible for CBC programming. The corporation made no immediate comment.

Open Revolt Never Urged By Church

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—A Roman Catholic educationist says that although the church has condemned specific wrong acts of dictatorships, it has never approved open revolt against established rule.

Dr. Edward T. Gargan, professor of modern European history at Loyola University, Chicago, said that only the socialists opposed Hitler's rise to power. Collaboration of the German Catholic Centre party helped Hitler in assuming complete control, he said.

Sand-Pile Battle

Bulldozer Duel Brings $50 Fine

OTTAWA (CP)—John Susin, 29, Monday was fined $50 for damaging a 15-ton bulldozer with his 40-ton bulldozer in a duel over ownership of a pile of sand at a construction site July 30.

When Magistrate Joachim Sauve heard the case last week, he described the weird duel fought with steel chargers as the "strangest case I have dealt with in my 19 years on the bench."

Susin was working on a storm sewer installation when an argument broke out with Raymond Clement, who was grading the road surface with a 15-ton bulldozer.

After a verbal exchange, the duel began in earnest with the iron monsters charging like angry armored bulls. There was a clamorous exchange of smashing blades and grinding treads.

Clement testified that he was forced to "jump for my life" as his mount rolled unceremoniously into a ditch.

Darwin's Book 100 Today

CHICAGO (UPI)—One hundred years ago today, Charles Darwin published "The Origin of Species," a book that set forth the theory of evolution and touched off a raging controversy between science and theology.

Today, 47 world scholars of evolution and related fields commemorate the birth of the English naturalist's far-reaching concept by opening a five-day Darwin centennial celebration.

Sol Tax, University of Chicago anthropologist who arranged the celebration, said it will be "the most comprehensive and intensive examination of the impact of Darwin's ideas . . . ever held at one time and place."

Runaway Locomotive Victim of Sabotage

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The Jersey Central Railroad said Monday its errant locomotive that left the Jersey City yards on an unmanned 22-mile run two weeks ago was sabotaged. J. C. McLester, the railroad's vice-president, testified at a state public utility commission hearing that when the locomotive was left idling in the yards, the throttle was off, the independent brake was on and the field switch that sends electricity to the traction motor was off.

When the locomotive was halted 22 miles away in South Amboy its throttle was wide open, the brake was off and the field switch was engaged.

VIEWS of SPORT

By Red Smith

It is now established almost beyond dispute that Ingemar Johansson, the Swedish Brando, is the greatest heavyweight champion since John L. Sullivan toured the music halls as the hero of that stirring drama of 1890, "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands."

Oh, perhaps there'll be a few antiquarians holding out for James J. Corbett in the title role of "Gentleman Jack" or even for his earlier performance in "Sport McAllister," but it is the feeling here that no other stage-struck pug ever matched the quality of Ingo's impersonation of a Swedish prize fighter in last Thursday night's television production of "The Killers," by A. E. Hotchner out of Ernest Hemingway by caesarian section.

Because we hardly ever see heavyweight champions in the ring today we must compare them on the basis of their unbloody public appearances. Even before his histrionic talent was revealed, Johansson was recognized as a man of many gifts—a business and industrial tycoon, a comely model for Scandinavian haberdashers, an agile and tireless operative on the ballroom floor, a master of public relations and a peerless knight ever at the beck of damsels in distress.

Although we have been vouchsafed only one fleeting glimpse of him as a gladiator, he must be accorded a lofty position in pugilistic history because we had it on the unbiased word of Cus D'Amato that the man he destroyed with one fearful blow, Floyd Patterson, was the mightiest warrior born of woman.

Scandinavian Archie

Now on top of everything else we learn that this viking demigod is an artist of sensitivity and taste, a Scandinavian Booth with sex appeal, touched with the theatrical genius of an Archie Moore or a Rocky Graziano. When was there ever a heavyweight champion like this?

Fact is, Ingemar did a first-rate job in a dreadful parody. What A. E. Hotchner did to Ernest Hemingway shouldn't happen to Frankie Carbo or fat Tony Salerno. At every station break, there appeared on the screen the sculptured head of Hemingway, looking like the divine Homer with adolescent pimples. One kept expecting it to burst out screaming. Not that Hotchner should get all the blame. His assignment was to take a jewel of a short story which can be read in a few gripping minutes, and stretch it, pad it, adulterate, deflower and pervert it to the demands of a show running 90 minutes.

It was a tough job but it was accomplished, by borrowing the same creative devices which have made "Portia Faces Life" an American classic. From an hour and a half, perhaps five minutes of honest Hemingway emerged.

The Battling Promoters

As soon as the horrid deed was done, Johansson took flight for Switzerland, pausing only long enough to repeat that he had no interest in the plans of Vincent J. Velilla for a return match with Patterson. Velilla, who never has promoted a fight and perhaps never will, is the nominal holder of the contract for a rematch with Patterson.

It may be possible to describe rather simply the situation regarding the heavyweight title, without trying to unsmile the tangle of promotional interests. It comes down, basically, to this:

There is one big fight in Johansson's immediate future. This is the return bout with Patterson, a million-dollar shot in almost anybody's hands. There are three reasons why Johansson may be expected to take it: (a) Nowhere else can he make so much money; (b) he has $100,000 in escrow to guarantee the return match; (c) he promised Patterson the rematch and almost everything he has said and done indicates that he means to keep his word.

Where and when the return bout might be fought remains to be seen. Almost everybody connected with last June's promotion is under suspension, under suspicion or under the bed.

Pro Football War Declared As New League Drafts Stars

The newly-formed American Football League made a bold bid for survival yesterday by drafting 88 of the top graduating college stars in the United States.

Each of the eight cities given franchises in the AFL—Minneapolis-St. Paul, Boston, Buffalo, Dallas, Denver, Houston,

New York and Los Angeles—selected 11 players.

The AFL draft, held a week ahead of the annual National Football League draft, sets up a new professional football battle and bidding for some of the top players is likely to be on the spirited side.

Among the players chosen

'Poor' Navy Wins, 7-1 Before Biggest Crowd

left for a 4-3 victory. It was Patterson's second straight win after losing their first three starts.

Neil Standley, who missed Navy's first two matches, led his club with two goals and one assist. He now has seven goals and four assists to tie the linemate John Bond, who scored twice last night for a six-goal total, at the head of the league's scoring list.

JUST MISSED
Close-checking Army team was close until Navy's four-goal third period and saw several early shots just miss. Army, which has lost four in a row after an opening win, was led by Carl Kispira, who has scored the soldiers' two goals in their last two games.

Vics appeared to have the opener when Bryan Erb scored on a rink-length rush at 2:18 of the final period. But John Makowski, whose eight goals led the circuit, tied it at 16:34 with his second of the night—and Ab Wiebe set up Orville Coulter with the winner on a power play at 19:48.

Victoria Shamrocks defenseman Derry Davies, out with Patterson for the first time, got an assist on the first goal. Both winning teams had a big edge in shots, Pattersons being ahead 32-20 and Navy 38-15.

Boxing World Buzzes As New York Revokes D'Amato's Licences

NEW YORK—Cus D'Amato, manager of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, had his New York licence as a manager and second revoked Monday. The decision has far-reaching implications in the boxing world.

The proposed rematch between Patterson and Ingemar Johansson, who dethroned him on June 26 in Yankee Stadium, becomes more complicated. Patterson has no manager in New York and the National Boxing Association has said that it will uphold the ruling—for the present at least.

The promotional firm, Rosensohn Enterprises Incorporated, which holds the return bout contract, previously had its New York licence revoked. Monday, Bill Rosensohn, who still owns one third of the promoting firm, had his matchmakers' licence suspended for three years.

Johansson's purse of $152,000 is being held in escrow by the New York commission but commissioner Julius Helfland said Monday the champion could now collect it at any time.

THREATENS TO SUE

This immediately brought the threat of court action from Edwin Stephen Schweig, attorney for D'Amato.

"I'll sue every member of the State Athletic Commission if it gives Ingemar Johansson his purse before a return title bout with Patterson," Schweig announced.

D'Amato issued a statement through his attorney saying that he was "shocked and utterly dismayed" by the decision to revoke his licence.

"I sincerely believe," D'Amato continued, "that on appeal to the courts the drastic and unbelievable penalty inflicted on me will not be upheld."

Johansson said "that's great news" when told he could collect his purse from the first fight. He was in Geneva.

"Maybe I won't have to fight Patterson any more now," he said, "but I want to give him a chance. First I want to go home and talk it over with Edwin Alquist, my adviser."

In London, the British Boxing Board of Control announced it would respect the decision of the New York commission.

"We have a reciprocal agreement with them," a spokesman said.

GUILTY ON FOUR.
The New York commission sustained four of five charges against D'Amato:

1—Failing to appear at a Sept. 14 hearing into alleged irregularities in the title fight promotion;
2—As a licensed manager participating as a matchmaker and promoter in the title fight;
3—Seeking to foist Harry Davidov upon Johansson as a manager, thereby attempting to control both contestants;
4—Failing to file a manager's financial report with the commission within the required five days after the fight.

D'Amato is currently free on $25,000 bail on a charge of violating the general business law for failing to respond to a subpoena from the state attorney-general. He goes on trial on that charge Dec. 14.

Move 6,250-Ton Stadium? In Texas It's No Problem

LUBBOCK, Tex. (CP)—Workmen Monday started digging on the job of dropping a football field 30 feet. And soon other workmen will begin the monstrous task of moving 12,500,000 pounds of steel and concrete football stands 200 feet to the rear.

How can you move a stadium that heavy? Easy, says Ed Pescheau, boss of the job. You just put it on railroad tracks and roll it back.

When the work ends Texas Tech will possess a stadium seating 40,000 for its first year in the Southwest Conference, a requirement for acceptance.

Laycoe Pleased Over 'Good Trip'

Victoria Cougars returned Monday from their first Prairie trip of the Western Hockey League season with five of a possible 12 points, leaving manager-coach Hal Laycoe in a happy frame of mind although he contends his club could easily have brought home nine points.

"We had a pretty good trip," said Laycoe on his return yesterday. "We could easily have had two more wins. Little lapses cost us points but we actually had only two bad periods on the whole trip."

"Calgary scored a goal on a play which should have been called for icing in the second game." Cougars lost that one, 3-2, in overtime.

The Calgary goal that Laycoe questioned resulted in a misconduct penalty and an automatic $25 fine when he informed a linesman of what he thought was an error in judgment.

GOAL-POST DECIDES INTERMEDIATE TITLE
MONTREAL—In one of the wildest finishes in Canadian football history, Montreal Lake, shore Alouette Flyers beat Manitoba's St. Vital Bulldogs, 8-1, Sunday for the national intermediate championship.

Lakeshore quarterback Marv Bergson, 30, tried four times in the final four minutes for a game-winning single. Bulldogs kicked back the first three attempts successfully.

But the fourth return punt, coming with 10 seconds left, hit a goalpost and bounced around in the St. Vital end zone. Lakeshore guard Gerry Alevatos, 22, fell on it for the game-winning touchdown and Bergson converted.

Naimark, 9-6, after holding a 6-2 lead to drop out of the Totem event but had won his other three starts. Gar Taylor of Victoria won three easy ones, then ran into a hot Vancouver rink skipped by Elmer Meier to lose, 7-3, in the Evergreen (second primary) event.

Stone, who swept the bonspiel last year with 11 wins in a row, won his first two games by coming from behind to extend his Totem streak to 13 in a row. Then he ran into Cook and lost, 7-4, in a spectacular finish.

Cook blanked the ninth end to hold last rock coming home but when Stone ducked in behind a rock in front of the rings, Cook had to come up with a great takeout to get the win.

Completing Marshall's rink are Bud Taylor and Bill Wilkinson. Bev Smiley and Doug Neft are the other members of Karjala's rink.

Colts on Tear Against 49ers

Baltimore Colts looked like their old selves Sunday when they blasted San Francisco's slipping 49ers, 45-14, to move into a tie with the West Coast team for leadership of the Western Division of the National Football League.

The defence line which led the Colts to the NFL title last year, was again its awesome self as it completely throttled the 49ers, who scored one touchdown on an intercepted pass and the other after Hugh McElhenney had taken a short pass and galloped for 72 yards before being pulled down 10 yards away.

It was about the only stand-out offensive play by the losers, who couldn't stop the Colt attack. Although quarterback Johnny Unitas tossed two performance by the Browns' Milt Plum, who tossed three touchdown passes. But reliable Lou Groza missed the first convert, and that was the difference. He also missed three field-goal tries but two were from 49 yards, one from 48.

Philadelphia Eagles tied with Cleveland for second place, defeating Los Angeles Rams, 23-20, with the help of two former Rams. Paige Cothren kicked three field goals and two converts and quarterback Norm Van Brocklin completed 19 of 38 passes.

more touchdown passes, the Colts stayed mainly on the ground as fullback Alan Ameche and halfbacks Lenny Moore and Mike Sommer ate up yardage.

Unitas' touchdown passes were his 23rd and 24th of the season and extended his streak of throwing one or more scoring passes to 34 games.

Chicago Bears, still hoping that four losses won't be too many to gain at least a tie for the division lead, moved within a game of the lead by capitalizing on opposition errors to knock off Detroit Lions, 24-14.

New York Giants, with veteran Charlie Conerly back in action and Pat Summerall, an other veteran, still on target with his kicking, took the Eastern Division lead with a 30-20 conquest of Chicago Cardinals.

Conerly tossed two touchdown passes while Summerall booted three field goals and three converts. Summerall has nine field goals from his last three games and 16 for the season, a new club record.

Helping out the Giants were the tough Pittsburgh Steelers, who upset Cleveland Browns, 21-20, when Bobby Layne calmly marched his club 83 yards in six plays during the last two minutes for the tying touchdown.

Layne passed 17 yards to Vern Nagler to complete the march, then stepped up and booted the conversion which meant victory only 40 seconds from time.

It nullified a fine passing

Next game: Saturday Evcoes vs. Victoria West. Royal Athletic Park.

Ladysmith United share first place in the Victoria and District Soccer League with Evcoes following weekend play but without forward Bill Sampson the surprising Up-Island entry would be a position lower.

A last-minute goal by Sampson earned Ladysmith a 1-1 draw with visiting Victoria West in one of four games played Sunday. His goal enabled Ladysmith to stay even with red-hot Evcoes, who walloped Heaneys, 9-0, at Reynolds Road Park.

Scorer for Victoria West was Alan Glen, who put his club ahead with a first-half penalty goal.

Leading Evcoes to their win was George Paul who scored three times while Morris Buryan and Ced Robb each scored twice.

Meanwhile, Canadian Scottish trampled winless Navy, 7-0, at HMCS Naden grounds to move within a single point of the leaders. Bill Mossey was the game's standout with five Scottish goals.

Final game saw Kurt Lampert score midway through the second half to give Gorge Hotel a 3-2 win over Kickers at Beacon Hill Park. Gorge led 2-0 at the half.

streak to 15 games with a 3-1 victory.

Canadiens, who got two goals from Henri Richard around the winner by Jean Beliveau, stayed six points ahead of the Wings.

In Sunday's other games, Toronto's oncoming Maple Leafs entrenched themselves solidly in third place with a 2-1 verdict over Boston Bruins, who have been skidding a bit of late.

New York Rangers, so far unable to complete any of the many trades reported brewing, yesterday continued to shuffle the talent they own in an effort to get into the chase for a National Hockey League playoff spot.

Paying the price this time for a team performance which shows only three wins in 19 starts, only one of them in the last 10 games, was goalie Lorne "Gump" Worsley.

Worsley was sent packing to Springfield of the American Hockey League along with defenceman Noel Price as the Rangers try desperately to do something about a defence which has leaked for 72 goals so far this season.

PRETTY BAD

Whether or not Worsley is to blame or his defence is at fault, the fact remains the Rangers have held opposing clubs to two goals or fewer only three times this season and in 10 games have permitted four or more goals. In the last 10 games, Worsley has picked 40 pucks out of his net.

Up from Springfield for a chance to do better are goalkeeper Marcell Paille and defenceman Jack Bownass.

Sunday saw the Rangers whipped, 5-3, by Detroit Red Wings as their latest winless streak was extended to five games and their distance from fourth spot remained at eight points.

STREAK AT 15

Also dropping steadily out of the playoff picture, Chicago Black Hawks couldn't hold Montreal's spurting Canadiens, who extended their unbeaten break to 15 games with a 3-1 victory.

For Gas, Oil

Salt Spring Drilling Set

By ALEC MERRIMAN

Drilling for natural gas and oil will start at the north end of Salt Spring Island this winter, it was learned last night.

If natural gas is discovered it will be piped into a submarine pipeline and used to serve Vancouver Island consumers.

Ralph Farris, president of Charter Oil Co. Ltd., said an 8,000-foot hole is envisaged to test all the sedimentary formations. He said there is a wide area in the north of Salt Spring Island where drilling might be carried out.

It is expected that Canadian

Collieries, Pacific Petroleum Ltd., Imperial Oil and California Standard will also participate in the drilling and post drilling geological studies.

Mr. Farris said no contract has yet been signed with the other companies, but that they participated in the drilling and geological work on a 4,000-foot drill on Saturna Island in 1958 and that geological reports after that first well were favorable.

Only Third Well

Although there has been considerable oil and gas exploration work in the southern coastal areas in past years, the Salt Spring well will be only the third well to be drilled in the area.

The others are the Saturna well in 1958 by Charter Oil and a 6,000-foot well drilled three years ago on the Tsawwassen Indian Reserve by Great Plains Corp., backed by Texas money.

Neither produced, but both drillings proved encouraging.

Submarine Pipeline

Charter owns 50 per cent of Magna and the drilling for natural gas is closely tied in with the plans for a submarine pipeline.

Some plans for the pipeline were unfolded at a Public Utilities Commission hearing in July and complete details will be made known when the hearing resumes in Victoria in December.

Opposing the Magna application is the Island Transmission Co. Ltd., which is related to the Vancouver Island Gas Co., which serves Nanaimo. At the December hearing, Island Transmission will submit its own plans for a natural gas pipeline to Vancouver Island.

Mr. Farris said discovery of natural gas on Salt Spring would be "very commercially attractive because of the immediate market on Vancouver Island... discovery of oil, of course, would also be attractive."

He said if natural gas were discovered, it would be piped to Vancouver Island to supply, or supplement the supply of natural gas in Victoria, Nanaimo and the Alberni.

Defence Department 'Fumbling, Bungling'

BATHURST, N.B. (CP) — Progressive Conservative defence policies came under attack from Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson at a public meeting here Monday night.

He said his party will "vigorously oppose the decision of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's government to equip Canadian forces with weapons that can be used for the defence of Canada only with the authority of another country."

The defence department was a "classic example of fumbling and bungling." It provided "a dozen examples of inept administration." He added, "We learned recently, after Defence Minister Pearkes and some of his colleagues had conferred with U.S. counterparts at Camp David, that nuclear weapons would be stored in Canada, and that Bomarc missiles would be fitted with nuclear warheads... our air force will be supplied with weapons for the defence of Canada which will be under the control of a foreign power."

While the United States was a friendly power, it was not right that "a single country should control the defence of another. That is how our present government carries out a pledge to free Canada from American control—that it how it stands up to the Americans."

At Bayonet Point

Japanese Climbers Robbed by Tibetans

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A Japanese expedition that failed in an attempt to scale a Himalayan peak was robbed at bayonet point by Tibetans, according to reports reaching here Monday.

The Japanese expedition was forced by avalanches to give up an attempt to reach the summit of 23,400-foot Mount Gauri Sankar after members had climbed about 20,000 feet.

Runners arriving from the area said the expedition was robbed while it was getting ready to descend the mountain early this month.

An earlier report brought back by runners said that the expedition was forced by snowslides to descend on the Tibetan side, where it was stopped and held for a time by a Red Chinese patrol. It was not clear whether this was the same incident reported yesterday. Runners said the expedition was robbed of cash, food and clothing.

Black Bunny Snow Target

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — Snowshoe rabbits are supposed to turn white in the winter but this one didn't—and that proved its undoing.

Philip Lehman, 12, of nearby Stafford Township, shot the black bunny as it stood clearly visible in a snow-covered field.

Month-Old Baby Found In Arms of Drunk Woman

ALBERNI — A one-month-old baby was taken to West Coast General Hospital Saturday night after being found in the arms of an intoxicated woman lying beside River Road within the city limits.

Social welfare officials were notified.

The scantily clad infant was found with Mrs. Clotilla Saxey and Tony Joseph, both of whom pleaded guilty in Alberni court yesterday morning to being intoxicated off the reserve.

Joseph, with a long record of similar offences, was fined $35. The woman, appearing for the first time in Alberni court, was assessed $16.50 in fines and costs.

Rare Set of Antlers

Rarely seen is a nice spread of antlers like this seven-pointer shot Saturday at Gordon River by Clive Walton, 25, of Duncan. Dressed it weighs about 165 pounds. The spread is rare because usually by the fifth or sixth year, when a deer is getting past his prime, the antlers are broken off.

Big Tax Cut Dangled Before View Royal

Possibility of a six mill tax cut was dangled before citizens of View Royal last night as backers of a move to give the district village status made their final appeal before Thursday's referendum. (See also Page 2).

Citizens of the district packed View Royal Community Hall to overflowing for the open meeting, and heard the incorporation committee present its arguments for incorporation. Then the committee and James Baird, supervisor of municipal affairs representing the provincial government, answered questions for almost an hour.

Big plank in the committee's platform was an estimated budget, based in part on figures for the village of Sidney, under which View Royal taxation could be dropped from its present 12.8 mills figure to about 6 mills.

"It could even be done for five mills," committee chairman A. W. Bradfield told the gathering. "But that is a minimum to do only what must be done, and the final rate would probably be slightly higher."

The provincial government, it was pointed out, would grant the village $16 per capita, a total of $28,192. Using this, plus the figures for operation in Sidney a few years ago, as a basis, the committee brought out three points in their argument for incorporation.

It would, it was claimed, cost only one year's grant to resurface all roads in View Royal. One year's grant would also pay for 1½ miles of ditches, or put in a complete electric lighting system for the district.

"With all the advantages of being a village," Mr. Bradfield said, "the provincial government would still provide for health and welfare costs, public health nursing service, assessing of property, law enforcement and administration, and open shelf library services. We have all these now, and won't lose any of them."

"We estimate that the five-mill taxation would take care of the rest—fire protection, administration and public works—and we're paying 12.8 mills for that now."

The matter goes to a vote Thursday at the community hall between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. A 60 per cent vote is needed to pass the referendum and give the district village status.

No Time To Get Licence

DUNCAN — A 16-year-old Cowichan Indian who bought a car and was having so much fun he didn't have time to get a driver's licence until he was in an accident, was fined a total of $38 yesterday.

He pleaded guilty to charges of driving without a driver's licence and careless driving after he almost wrecked the car seven days after he bought it.

Police said he drove into a telephone pole and did some $250 damage to the car. At the time he told police his brakes failed. In court police said skid marks were visible.

Dog, Gull Hooked On Fishboat

CAMPBELL RIVER — A dog and a seagull accidentally caught on barbed hooks aboard a fishboat moored here Sunday, were rescued by an RCMP constable.

The dog was hooked by the nose and the gull by a wing, police said.

The smell of former bait on the sharp, hallbut hooks apparently attracted the bird and the dog.

Casual Job 'Important'

PORT ALBERNI — The importance of the casual job was stressed by C. J. Harman, local manager, National Employment Service, at the meeting of the winter employment committee.

He pointed out that, while a few hours' work will not affect the benefits being drawn from NES, "a couple of bucks means a lot to an unemployed man."

Victoria Car Thieves Held in Duncan Jail

DUNCAN — Three Victoria juveniles who admitted stealing a car in Duncan to drive home, were remanded in custody until Friday for sentencing.

Judge A. C. Sutton gave the remand when probation officers indicated they want more time to prepare further reports on the youths for the court's decision.

A 16-year-old admitted five previous court appearances, the last three for breaking and entering. "I thought he was going to go straight," said his mother.

"The more you lay down the law the tougher he gets," said the father of a 16-year-old, one of nine children in the family, whose last two of five court appearances have been for theft.

"I can't understand what came into their heads," said the father of the third youth, a 17-year-old who has one theft conviction on his record.

Judge Sutton warned the boys that their cases could have been taken out of juvenile court and handled in police court, where they could have received jail terms with a maximum of 10 years.

The boys had nothing to say.

Think of Accident Victims Impaired Drivers Told

DUNCAN — Two Victoria men were fined $200 each when they pleaded guilty to charges of impaired driving here during the weekend.

"You want to give a little thought to people who are killed because of drinking drivers," said Magistrate A. C. Sutton to Alexander McMillan, 48, a Victoria truck driver.

McMillan was found slumped over the wheel of a car Sunday on Kenneth Street. The keys were in the ignition and the lights were on.

Magistrate Sutton said because McMillan wasn't actually driving he could retain the use of his driver's licence on the job, but not for pleasure driving.

He suspended the driver's licence of Alvar Kallberg, 55, Victoria, for 60 days. The logging company construction foreman failed to negotiate a turn Sunday at Government and College Streets and smashed through a telephone pole.

A single orange tree at maturity will produce 10,000 or more oranges.

Beauty Spots To Be Stressed

DUNCAN — The Duncan Cowichan Chamber of Commerce will direct its efforts this winter to make local scenic spots more attractive and accessible to tourists.

One of the main things will be access roads and direction signs to the spots, said R. B. Evans, chamber president, last night.

Of the sites, Mr. Evans said, "They are there, if tourists can find them."

He suggested a garden around the Old Stone Church and steps leading up to it, as

HOW TO PLAN

YOUR CHRISTMAS MAIL

- 1 Buy your stamps now and avoid the Christmas rush. 2 and 5 cent stamps are available in handy dollar packages for your convenience.
- 2 Check your mailing list for correct postal addresses. When mailing to Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec, be sure to include the Postal Zone Number.
- 3 The year-out-of-town mail and local mail in separate bundles. Attach the labels that the Post Office supplies. This speeds delivery. Be sure to put your return address on the envelope.
- 4 Parcels should be wrapped well and tied with strong cord. Print the address. And put your return address outside and inside the parcel. Have parcels weighed at your neighbourhood Post Office.
- 5 Mail early. Nothing is so disappointing as Christmas mail that arrives too late. A Post Office booklet will be delivered to your home giving suggested mailing dates.

—a new widow wondering what she can do with three children under seven.

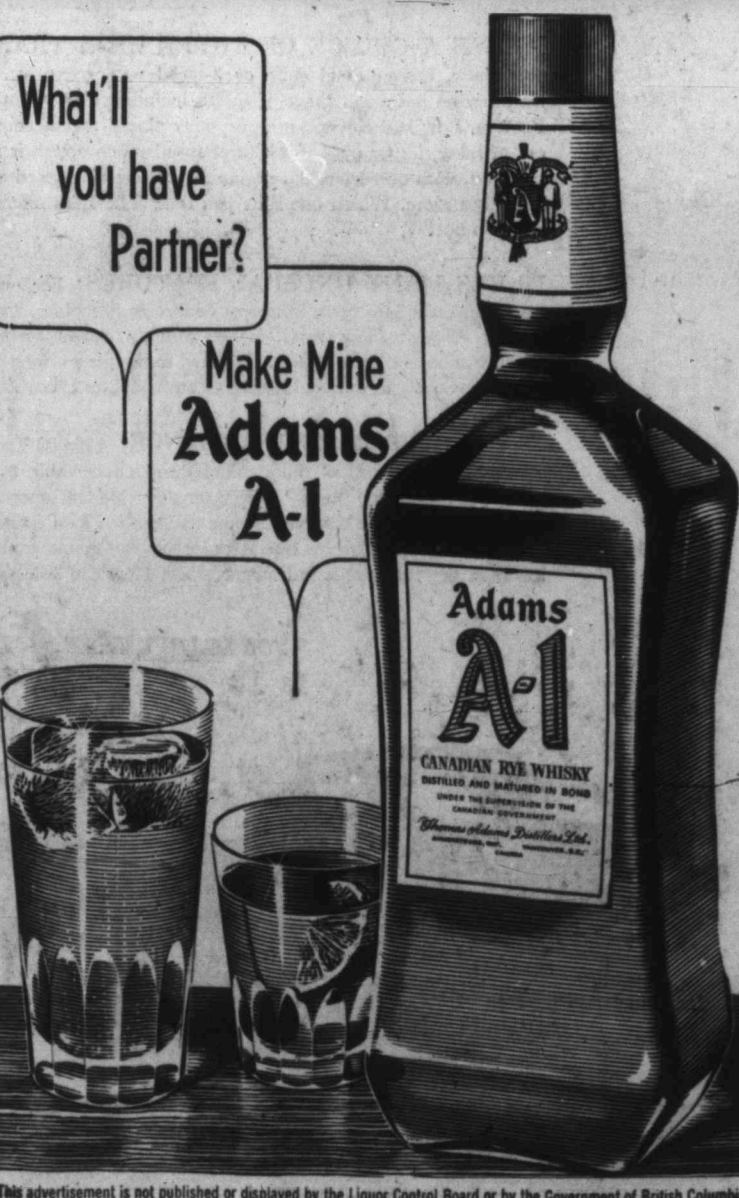

A young mother with only one small child can usually find someone to provide day care while she goes back to work to earn a living for two people. But who is willing to care for three or four small children? And what young widow can earn enough to house, feed and clothe a family of four and pay a housekeeper?

Wise young fathers consider adequate life insurance a "must"—and get as much permanent personal life insurance as they can... while they can!

Lawrence Was 'Love-Child'

By DAVE ONCIA
LONDON (CP) — Lawrence of Arabia was the "love-child" of an Irish baronet and a nursery-governess, says Colonel the Lord Astor of Hever, chairman of The Times.
In a review of the life of T. E. Lawrence's mother, the publisher told the story of a love affair that resulted in the birth of the famous soldier and his four brothers.
The review, published by The Observer, followed the death of Mrs. Lawrence last week at the age of 93.
"Mrs. Lawrence was a remarkable woman in her own right; her life story is extraordinary," says Lord Astor.
"As quite a young girl she went as nursery-governess to the daughters of an Irish baronet. The baronet fell in love with the governess and it became so obvious that his wife dismissed her."

... remarkable mother

Lawrence's mother then went to live in Dublin, where the love affair continued.
"When the baronet's visits became suspiciously frequent his wife had him shadowed, and discovered the governess installed in a house, the mother of several small boys."
"The baronet then made over most of his money to her and his legitimate family."
The publisher adds that the baronet's wife never divorced him. Eventually he, the former governess and their five sons settled in a house in North Oxford "under" the assumed name of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, where they led a model bourgeois existence.

In an accompanying story, Observer columnist Pendennis says biographer Richard Adlington rightly deduces that Lawrence was an illegitimate son of Sir Thomas Chapman, an Irish baronet.

Khaki Skirts in Majority

The male, noted as a warrior for centuries, was outnumbered by his female counterpart at Bay Street Armory yesterday.
During the annual inspection of No. 155 Company, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, by Brig. J. W. Bishop, B.C. area commander, the women, members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, outnumbered the men on parade by five to one.
The men came into their own later on last night when the Canadian Scottish Regiment, complete with kilts, paraded for the area commander.

Mother Clubs Four Tots To Death

ROSSVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — An apparently deranged mother picked up a claw hammer last night and pounded to death her four children, aged three months to six years, police reported.
Mrs. W. A. Thrailkill, her clothing splashed with blood, stumbled into the home of the Rev. H. H. Long, pastor of the First God of Prophecy Church, and blurted out that she had slain her children.

Centenary Aids Students

Perpetual remembrance of the 1958 British Columbia centennial celebrations will be marked by the establishment of two $500 centennial scholarships—one for Victoria College and one for UBC.

The first awards will be made next year.

"Terrific!" says Mrs. Bill Cullen

"There's such a variety of glorious things in the new Christmas issue of McCall's," says Mrs. Bill Cullen, wife of one of America's most popular TV stars. "The photography is just beautiful... really beautiful. The Christmas ideas are terrific."

L. J. Wallace, who was chairman of the B.C. Centennial Committee, said the scholarships are from investment of about $20,000 gained through sales of the B.C. centennial record book, plus a supplementary grant from centennial funds.

The perpetual scholarships will be known as B.C. 1958 centennial scholarships.

At Victoria College the scholarship will be awarded annually to a student who has completed at least one year at Victoria College and who is continuing university studies in B.C.

Selection will be on a basis of scholarship achievement and effective participation in campus activities.

The UBC award will go annually to a student entering the third year with an outstanding academic record in the field of humanities or social sciences.

The Courtroom Parade

Child Spanker Drew Blood With Belt

Melvin Garry Bagg, Work Point, was found guilty in city police court yesterday of assault causing bodily harm to two-year-old Dean French.

The man was accused of using an army belt to spank the child, raising welts that oozed a small amount of blood. The child's mother was in hospital at the time, and the youngster, along with two others, was in care of a baby-sitter.

Accused told the court he spanked the baby with his hand.

Bagg was remanded to Wednesday for a probation report and sentence.

1,500 Sign Milk Plea In Saanich

Close to 1,500 Saanich residents have signed a petition opposing a provincial government order designed to halt the sale of milk in 64-ounce cartons.

Mrs. Barbara Hunt, a spokeswoman for a group of Saanich housewives who circulated the petition, said yesterday that a letter describing the protest has been sent to Premier Bennett.

The protest arose after the government ordered a Saanich co-operative, Milky Way Dairy Co., to halt sales of its milk in 64-ounce cartons after Dec. 15.

The government said some consumers had bought the cartons believing them to contain 80 ounces.

A spokesman for the dairy said yesterday: "We don't intend to stop sales after Dec. 15."

Charles Kendall Leitner, 406 Quebec, was fined $250 and his driver's licence was suspended when he pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving.

He was seen driving west on Yates, between Blanshard and Douglas, on the sidewalk. Asked why by an officer, he replied:

"Sometimes the sidewalks are shorter than the streets."

Floyd Cameron, no fixed address, was sent to jail by Magistrate William Ostler for three months after pleading guilty to possession of stolen goods, and another month, concurrent, for vagrancy.

Police found two clocks, valued at 98 cents each, property of F. W. Woolworth Co., on accused when they stopped him for begging on the street.

Two youths were fined $15 each in separate courts yesterday when they admitted being minors in possession of liquor.

In city court Herbert Roger Tait, 20, Work Point, pleaded guilty to the charge, and in Esquimalt Leslie Floyd Eshleman, HMCS New Glasgow, also 20, entered a similar plea.

Retail Sales 4.5 Per Cent Higher in B.C.

Retail sales in British Columbia were up 4.5 per cent over last year, to $1,090,600,000 for the first eight months of the year, Trade Minister Robert Bonner said yesterday. He said automobile sales registered the highest dollar volume of all trades for all months with the exception of January. In the first eight months motor vehicle sales accounted for 20 per cent of retail sales.

Don't Be Angry, Ingo

TAB HUNTER
... antique business

NEW YORK (NANA)—I'm glad heavyweight champ Ingemar Johansson is not angry with me—he has too powerful a punch. But he is irate with other Hollywood columnists who have named him in romances with six or seven movie starlets, and even as having given one an "engagement ring." "I've never given a ring to any woman," Ingo insists. The champ likes Hollywood and wants to return there for another movie. He also likes America and plans to become a U.S. citizen.

Tab Hunter takes off today for the Orient after taping his TV spectacular with Ethel Merman. Tab is going into the Oriental antique business, and will visit Hong Kong and Tokyo before reporting to Paramount in Hollywood for "The Pleasure of His Company," with Debbie Reynolds and Fred Astaire.

Marlene Dietrich is now in Paris for her night-club act at the Etoile, which Orson Welles will film in color for a TV spec. I saw Marlene just before she took off for Paris and marveled anew at her sharp figure, and unfurrowed forehead. "I do nothing about either," murmured Marlene.

With Peter Palmer and Leslie Parrish in New York to promote their "LJ Abner" movie hit, I'm glad to announce there'll be a sequel for the Al Capp cartoon creation.

Marilyn Monroe will recite her songs in "The Billionaire," a la Leslie Caron in "Gigi" and Rex Harrison in "My Fair Lady." The Sammy Cahn song, "Specialization," is quite difficult, even for someone who can sing.

Dale Robertson, between "Tales of Wells Fargo" takes, told me "Lula Mae (his new wife) and I want a family—but in good time." Dale has a seven-year-old daughter by his first marriage.

Lana Turner calls bandleader Ray Anthony, "Instant Cary Grant." ... Ray's divorce from Marlene Van Doren will soon be in the courts. Wonder how those revelations in the Marion Brando-Anna Kashfi case will affect his popularity with the ladies.

Cary Grant will be in New York for the December 3 opening of his "Operation Petticoat." No one works harder at selling his movies to the public than Grant. This is obviously a good idea, because all his films do very well.

One-Act Plays Sought

Writers of plays are being invited to sharpen their quills again.

The Ottawa Little Theatre Workshop announces its 22nd annual Canadian playwrighting competition for original one-act plays.

Three awards are offered. First prize is the Birks Award of $100; second is the Dorothy White award of $75 and third is the University Women's Club of Ottawa award of $50.

The rules of the competition, particularly as to the preservation of anonymity and with the shadow of rigged TV hanging over all artistic contest, are lengthy and a bit intricate.

B.C. 'Monte Carlo' On Moresby Island?

Real estate men in Victoria believe the island that a New York promoter seeks to set up here as a West Coast, cold-water Monte Carlo-type gambling casino is Moresby Island, at the northern end of Saanich Peninsula.

The 1,500-acre island in Georgia Strait has been listed for sale with Previews, Inc., an international marketing organization.

The promoter is Victoria-born Richard S. Robbins, and it is understood the island was offered to him by a local realtor as a summer resort development similar to those on Oreas Island and other nearby U.S. islands.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner has promised Robbins a difficult time if he does try to set up a gambling island in B.C. waters.

Moresby is in B.C. waters, adjacent to the international border.

Mr. Robbins has his own private plane and was here Sept. 4. It is understood he and his associates have a number of large residential developments across the U.S.

What Ho! Boat Show Coming Back to Town

"What Ho! The Boat Show!" is coming back. Vic-Van Isle Kinsmen Club officers announced yesterday that the club will have its second annual boat show at the curling rink April 7 to 9 inclusive, and hopes it will be "even bigger and better than last year."

Last year the show, with its "What Ho!" slogan, attracted more than 13,000 visitors, and enabled the club to buy the $5,600 property for the Girl Guides' camp at Sooke.

Three Accidents Sunday

Passenger Injured In Two-Car Crash

Ralph Baxter, 16, of 851 Shamrock, recovering from concussion suffered in a two-car crash Sunday at Cloverdale and Oak, was in "good" condition yesterday in hospital.

Driver of one car was Bert Kuyvenhoven, 3920 Shelbourne, and of the other, in which Baxter was a passenger, was William Alfred Lindsay, 823 Colville.

Lindsay suffered a cut over the eye but refused hospital care.

Two other accidents Sunday caused property damage, but no injuries.

A car driven by Ruth Emily Hay, Milnes Landing, collided with another driven by Arthur J. Adelsberg, 338 Simcoe, then crashed into the wall of an apartment at 706 Blanshard. Damage to the wall was estimated at $400.

Later, a car being towed on Delatre by George Taylor, 2855 Delatre, broke loose, rolled downhill and struck a parked vehicle.

'Christmas Package' BCE Bus May Ease Footsore Shoppers

A B.C. Electric bus specially painted to resemble a Christmas package may circulate throughout the downtown shopping area in December for the benefit of footsore shoppers.

Operation of the bus would be underwritten by city businesses acting through the retail merchants' committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and a nominal fare of five cents would be charged to passengers.

The bus would circulate around the main shopping district along Douglas, Fort, Government and Yates at five to 10-minute intervals, depending on whether one or two buses are put into service.

Roy Denny, chairman of the merchants' committee, will meet with BCE officials today in an effort to complete details of the service. He said he will try to get merchants' support for a two-bus service starting Dec. 1.

BCE Willing To Listen

A B.C. Electric transportation department official said yesterday his company is prepared to listen to any suggestions for increasing passenger traffic "with an open mind."

The statement came from H. R. Halls, Victoria transportation manager, who said he and other officials will meet with one of the prime critics of local bus service, Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt, later this week.

Reeve Wurtele said recently that the BCE should try new ways of encouraging more passengers rather than complain that there are not enough passengers for a more frequent evening service.

"We have already tried several things," Mr. Halls pointed out yesterday, "among them a more frequent service which was not patronized by sufficient numbers and which had to be gradually whittled down."

He added that "if Reeve Wurtele has anything concrete that doesn't involve a great deal of money and a relatively small return, we would be glad to hear it."

Egg Influx Cuts Price Five Cents

A heavy flow of eggs from the prairie provinces hit the Pacific coast egg market over the weekend and caused a sharp fall in prices.

In the Victoria area, the retail price of Grade A large eggs dropped five cents a dozen, to almost 50 cents.

Reply-Of Sorts

Dredge Contract Decision Soon

Mrs. Thomas To Stand As Trustee

Mrs. J. M. Thomas, 4781 Timber Place, announced yesterday she will seek election to the school board of District 63.

Mrs. Thomas is the wife of Dr. J. M. Thomas, principal of Mount View High School before his retirement, and she said, has been "interested in education all my life." She was a school trustee in Saskatchewan before coming to Victoria more than 20 years ago.

Her election, Mrs. Thomas said, would place a woman on the District 63 school board for the first time in several years.

Mayor Percy Scurrell has had a reply-of sorts to his letter to Prime Minister Diefenbaker objecting to an implication that West Coast shipyards are inefficient.

The mayor wrote in connection with reported remarks of a transport department official that West Coast yards ought to reorganize, after eastern yards submitted the lowest bids and received contracts for two freighters.

Mr. Diefenbaker referred his letter to the public works minister, and the minister, David J. Walker, has written to the mayor about "your concern about any misunderstanding which may lie behind the discrepancy between departmental estimates and the low tenders" on a proposed new dredge.

He assures the mayor that the decision on a contract for the dredge will be made soon.

New City Centre To Help Children

The disabled as well as children with speech and hearing problems will benefit from the opening yesterday of a new centre at 470 George Road East.

It will be operated by the B.C. Foundation for Child Care, Polio Myelitis and Rehabilitation in co-operation with the B.C. Society for Crippled Children.

The joint office will provide preventive and treatment services for polio victims and other disabled persons. The program includes a speech clinic for children under 16.

Health Minister Eric Martin, who declared the premises officially open, paid tribute to the work of volunteer agencies in the fight against ill health.

"A 'leave it to Charlie' attitude is the one that defeats us in the battle against disease," the minister said. "Fortunately here in B.C. the situation is quite the reverse."

VERY FORTUNATE
"We are really very fortunate because we have in this province a strongly organized army of voluntary agencies, composed of dedicated people, who are doing their best in some particular health problem."

Robert J. Harvey, vice-president of joint management committee, told guests at the opening the centre will provide "more comprehensive treatment" than was available before its establishment.

GROW QUICKLY
"One part of the program that we expect to grow quickly here is the speech clinic," he said. The clinic was set up under a $100,000 province-wide program sponsored by the polio foundation.

Executive secretary of the joint office here is Alan G. F. Sutton, formerly an executive of the Massey-Harris Company in eastern Canada.

Nanaimo Girl Released Following Polio Scare

Brought to Royal Jubilee Hospital last week for observation as a possible polio patient, a two-year-old Nanaimo girl was discharged Sunday, hospital officials said yesterday. The child was suffering from a stiff neck. No further symptoms developed.

Bird's Owner Still Hopeful

Challenge To Smith Unanswered

A challenge from Ald. Arthur Dowell to mayoralty candidate J. Donald Smith has gone unanswered so far, Ald. Dowell said yesterday.

The alderman, chairman of city council lands committee, early last week challenged Mr. Smith to appear before council to substantiate, if he could, implications about city property dealings, "that reflect on the integrity of every member of city council, particularly me."

He said if Mr. Smith or any other citizen would bring forward specific allegations, he would move that council order an investigation.

Ald. Dowell wouldn't comment yesterday on the lack of an answer.

"I'll comment on Thursday if he doesn't come to the council meeting," he said. "And if he does come!"

Two setbacks Sunday have failed to discourage Miss Jessie Read, 1762 Pembroke, in her confidence that she'll recapture her wandering tame cock pheasant, Cherry.

Ever since the big bird escaped from her home a week ago Sunday, when high winds broke a window, she has followed every lead, every report that the bird had been sighted.

BOTH CORRECT
Sunday she had two reports, both correct.

First was from the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Murphy, 2558 Scott. Miss Read found Cherry there all right, and was able to get close enough to feed him. However, despite help from Mr. Murphy, the bird took off just in time to avoid actual recapture.

ONCE MORE
Later he was found in a garden at 1603 Bay, and once more Miss Read almost had him when a door was slammed in a neighboring house.

"It sounded like a gun," said Miss Read, "and he flew away."

TOWARD HOME
The bird's owner took heart from the fact that Cherry's last flight was toward her own home.

"He may come back on his own. If not, I'll get him, somehow."

Emergency Vehicles

Special Controls Give Right-of-Way

Special traffic control boxes have been placed at strategic intersections in Victoria to give city fire department vehicles the right-of-way during emergency runs.

They are located at Yates and Cook, Cook and Pandora, and along Bay at Cook, Quadra, Blanshard, Douglas and Government.

Lights turn red in all directions at any one of these corners when a control box hanging above the intersection is activated by a radio beam transmitted from an emergency vehicle racing towards the intersection.

At the same instant that intersection lights turn red, a white monitor light flips on to let the firemen know they have the right-of-way. If the white light flashes on and off, it means that still another emergency vehicle has priority right-of-way.

Motorists should exert extra caution at these intersections and stop immediately if the light turns red, to avoid possibility of a serious collision, a fire department spokesman warned.

Bylaws Passed

Pay for Reeve, Council Approved in Oak Bay

Oak Bay council last night approved annual salaries of $1,800 for the reeve and $600 for each of the six councillors, effective Jan. 1.

Two amended bylaws concerning the salaries issue were passed by votes of 4 to 3, with Reeve George Murdoch and Councillors Fred Robinson and Allan Cox opposing.

City Hospitals

Shortage Of Beds Worse

Victoria's two general hospitals yesterday reported the chronic bed shortage as being slightly more acute than at this time one year ago.

A St. Joseph's Hospital spokesman reported a waiting list of about 80 prospective patients and a Royal Jubilee Hospital official said elective surgery patients are being booked a month ahead.

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, said some surgery has had to be postponed after already being scheduled.

Despite Lawsuit

City Mall Scheme Faces New Vote

Victorians will have to reaffirm their approval of a $1,000,000 parking and pedestrian mall bylaw in spite of the city's decision to defend a lawsuit which has blocked the proposal for a year.

Mayor Scurrell gave that assurance to a pre-election meeting crowd of close to 150 people last night.

The new bylaw will have to be placed before the electorate in order to amend the interest rates if the city is successful in defending the original measure against an action brought by mayoralty candidate J. Donald Smith.

Speaking with the mayor last night were re-election candidates Mrs. Lily Wilson, D. J. Proudfoot, Millard Mooney and Geoffrey Edgelow.

Mayor Scurrell termed as "tragic" the year delay forced on the city in implementing the mall bylaw.

In blocking the project, he said, Mr. Smith, "for reasons best known to himself and which nobody has been able to understand . . . saw fit, by legal action, to prevent us from carrying out the expressed will of the people."

SAVE DOWNTOWN

He recalled that the project is designed to save the city's downtown shopping area from sharp devaluation as a result of the increase of shopping centres outside the city.

If he is re-elected, he stated, he will continue representations urging the provincial government to free the municipalities of school costs.

Ald. Edgelow said that if the provincial government rescinded all its grants to Victoria but paid the city's educational costs, taxpayers would be saved $200,000 a year.

Ald. Proudfoot said if he is re-elected he will work towards improvement of city hall facilities and construction of an auditorium.

Ald. Wilson outlined recent progress in her campaign to have a juvenile and family court established here, stating that if only three or four delinquents were saved from institutions as a result of the court the saving to taxpayers would equal the additional cost over facilities.

Ald. Mooney cited the fact that the present administration has put the city in the position of being one of only two cities in Canada which is steadily decreasing its bonded indebtedness.

Craigflower

Play Area Work Slated

Work will begin soon on development of about an acre of waterfront property at the Old Craigflower School as a recreation area.

The Old Craigflower schoolhouse committee last night heard a report that Saanich municipality will carry out initial work as part of its winter work program.

W. J. V. Church, chairman, said plans call for the project when completed to include picnic tables and a safe bathing beach.

The committee decided to obtain estimates on the cost of restoring three upstairs rooms, formerly occupied by the schoolmaster, to their original condition.

The move is the last part of a face-lifting program which has resulted in restoration of the school room and installation of an oil-heating system.

The schoolhouse is open to the public as a museum. The committee agreed to membership in the recently formed B.C. Museum Association.

Drama

Teacher Wins Award

The Canadian drama award, premier distinction for outstanding service to the amateur theatre in Canada, was last night given to Miss Christine McNab, 159 Cook.

A teacher at S. J. Willis Junior High School, Miss McNab has been actively associated with school and community drama for more than 20 years and has produced an entry in the school festival regularly for the past 19 years.

MANY TASKS

She has served as chairman of the Vancouver Island Regional Drama Festival and is a member of the executive of the B.C. Drama Association.

NEW CHAIRMAN

These awards were announced following the annual meeting of the governing committee last night held at the home of Dr. Roger Manning, 1823 Chestnut.

Retiring committee chairman Sir Robert Holland of Victoria was succeeded by Mrs. Gerald Rushton of Vancouver.

Monthly Loss $1,000

The Cerebral Palsy Association of Lower Vancouver Island is losing more than $1,000 a month through operating costs, treasurer Donald Anderson said in a written report read last night at the fall general meeting of the association.

For the seven-month period since the association's last general meeting in April, the operating loss has mounted to $7,022.89, Mr. Anderson's report showed.

"It would take only two years at this rate of loss to fully deplete the association's reserve of $22,000," the report said.

The loss was blamed on the fact that each project assisted on by the association during the seven-month fiscal year was down from 1958 in money received.

Athletic Court Pondered

Plans for a combined basketball-lacrosse court in Centennial Park were discussed recently at a meeting of the Langford Recreation Commission.

The court will cost approximately $1,100 to complete and will be able to be converted into ice and roller rinks.

Other projects considered for the park at the commission meeting included soccer and baseball fields, shuffle and checker boards, and a children's playground.

Oak Bay May Assist Needy Ex-Employees

Financial assistance for pensioners who were former municipal employees will be considered by Oak Bay council.

Council last night tabled for study a resolution put forward by Coun. John Watts calling for about $400 a month assistance for 18 former employees.

Included in the group of pensioners who may get help was a man who worked for the municipality for 21 years and is now receiving a pension of only $13.45 a month.

For pensioners, Mr. Watts' scheme calls for one dollar a month for each year of contribution to the pension fund, with a maximum of $25 a month, unless the total pension paid by the B.C. government superannuation branch is less than $50, in which case the bonus would be increased to that amount.

For widows of pensioners, it proposes 70 cents a month for each year of the husband's contribution to the pension fund, with a maximum of $17.50 a month unless the total pension paid by the superannuation branch is less than $35, in which case the bonus would be increased to that amount.

Community Needs Paramount

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said last night the rights of the public and the rights of the family and community must be placed above the rights of any group, whether it be labor or management.

He said in a radio address that immediately the Trade Unions Act was enacted "there was a great hullabaloo from a small group of Socialists in and out of the labor movement."

"It was obvious from the outset that their main concern was their own political fortunes rather than the needs of the community," he said.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: I've been dating a very nice fellow for almost six months, but something about him disturbs me.

My boy friend and his two buddies are furnishing their apartment. They think it's perfectly O.K. to swipe dishes, silverware, sugar bowls, ashtrays, napkins, anything they can get out of a restaurant without being seen.

I've told him I won't go with him again if he lifts anything else. I'd die of shame if we ever got stopped on the way out.

Everyone in the crowd says I'm a humorless drip and a wet blanket. They claim the prices in restaurants are pegged to take care of this sort of "shrinkage." Are they right?—NANETTE.

Dear Nanette: This sort of "shrinkage" is called stealing. The price of a meal in a restaurant does not include the silverware, napkins and sugar bowl.

If more people behaved like this sleight-of-hand artist the restaurant owners would be forced to increase prices to absorb the cost of doing business with thieves.

Seemed Like a Good Idea

Dear Ann: Recently my husband and I moved into an apartment owned by my mother-in-law. It seemed like a good idea, excellent location, low rent and I've always been fond of my mother-in-law.

The trouble is I can't get my husband's unmarried brother out of our apartment. He has a key and let's himself in when I'm at work and my husband is out of town. It's a terrible feeling to open the door and see him sitting there leering at me.

He has tried to kiss me and I've pushed him away. I think there must be something mentally wrong with him. When I tell him to leave he just sits there and smiles.

I got desperate when my husband returned from his last trip and I told him. He turned the thing around and said "YOU are the one who is sick. My brother is a swell person. You're imagining things."

What can I do? I'm a nervous wreck?—DORA.

Dear Dora: Have the locks changed and insist that your brother-in-law not have a key. This should do it.

Would You Speak to Mother?

Dear Ann: If you say so I'll keep out of it. My neighbors moved here recently from a foreign country. They have two attractive daughters 16 and 18. The girls have become friendly with our daughter.

Both neighbor girls have excessively hairy legs. Apparently in their country it is ignored. They have noticed it is different in the U.S. They've asked permission to shave their legs. Their mother said no. Now I've been asked by the girls to speak to their mother. Would you?—NO BUTTER-IN.

Dear No Butter: Certainly. Explain to the mother that in this country it is one of the essentials of good grooming. You would be doing the young girls a big favor.

Cranberries Back Again

Cranberries, still a touchy subject, are back in the stores looking as luscious as ever. These are quite safe to eat, but if you want to be sure, look at the label. Crops under suspicion are all from the Pacific Northwest, mainly Washington and Oregon. Cranberries now on sale come from St. Johns, Quebec, or Massachusetts and are above reproach. Cans are labelled too.

OK APPLE SPECIAL

Apples now arriving from the Okanagan are conveniently kid-sized, just the right dimensions for stuffing into pockets or lunch boxes. Macs, Red Delicious and Delicious are all good. For something really special try Spartan, an apple with excellent keeping quality, if those kid-sized hands can leave them alone long enough to prove it.

Rome Beauty and Newtons are first-class cookers.

An orange a day gives a little extra vitamin C to help ward off flu and colds. Navel oranges, coming from southern districts of California, are a sweet and juicy way to keep fit.

Grapefruit from Indian River, Florida, give us another dose of liquid sunshine. This year's crop is better than last and there are pink as well as white.

Large grapes on the market, are fine Ribier, which are black, Almeria, green, and lovely Red Emperor. They are "hardwearing" which means will stand up to plenty of handling and keep well, and look beautiful in fruit baskets.

North Africa Progress

Moslem Women Gaining Freedom

PARIS (Reuters)—The emancipation of Moslem women is getting under way in North Africa. More progress has been made in the last 10 years towards freeing women from the age-old prejudices and Moslem religious traditions by which they were bound than in all the centuries past.

One significant indication of the acceptance of this new-found freedom for women, found in North Africa today, is the appearance of more and more Moslem women without the traditional veils which have come to be regarded as symbols of social slavery.

TUNISIAN BOMBHELL
President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, who has done more for the emancipation of Tunisian women than anyone, dropped a bombshell on Tunisia's centuries of tradition when he banned polygamy.

A leading figure in the movement to emancipate women from ancient social customs is Princess Lalla Aicha, the eldest daughter of King Mohammed V of Morocco, who has discarded the traditional veil.

"Discarding the veil is not important in itself," Princess Lalla Aicha once said. "What counts is that a woman has the right to wear a veil or not as she pleases."

ACTION IN ALGERIA
In Algeria, where the emancipation of Moslem women has moved more slowly than in Tunisia and Morocco, great strides were taken last February when French President Charles de Gaulle signed a decree banning child marriages and granting Moslem women new social rights.

Divorce also has been made more difficult under the decree. Gone is the traditional method of divorce whereby the husband had only to repeat three times before witnesses the statement: "By Allah, I divorce thee." A marriage now can be dissolved only by a judicial decision.

B.C. Resources Really Big

Delicious Meals May Be Built Around Pork

By LOUISE MOORE

I think it was a woman who once wrote that "all people are alike—of bones and flesh and dinner—only the dinners are different." Well, to put still more variety into your dinners we have a number of delicious pork dinners that may help stimulate the family's meal time interest.

Pork is one of our most nutritious meats and with care in the preparation and serving it makes a very tasty platter.

LEG OF PORK POPULAR

Fresh leg of pork is meaty, contains only a small amount of bone and is a lean and tender cut. As with other other cuts of pork this, too, should be well cooked. The leg should be roasted, uncovered, in a 325 F oven until it is well done. If using a meat thermometer, it should register 185 F when the meat is done. The thermometer should not rest on fat or bone and is inserted in the fleshier part of the leg. The cooked meat when done should be fork tender and grayish white in color with no trace of pink, especially near the bone.

It will take about 45 minutes per pound to roast either a shank or butt leg roast weighing 5 to 8 pounds. (Example: for 6-pound roast, allow approximately 4½ hours.) For smaller roasts (3 to 4-pound) up to an hour a pound may be required for thorough cooking.

SEASONINGS

Seasonings should be added to the roast halfway through the cooking. Sage, thyme, oregano, marjoram and garlic are some of the seasonings that go with pork. Onion, mushrooms, green pepper and celery are all good, too, and of course apples are perfect with pork.

For a change, sometime, remove bone from the leg roast, and fill with a savory bread stuffing—it should be highly seasoned. The flavors of the vegetables and herbs in the stuffing will savor the meat and make it different and delicious.

Tips for Parents

Eating Habits Explained

By HELEN R. HEWSON

A number of inquiries have come in recently from parents who are worried about their children's poor eating habits.

This is a problem of plenty. It does not occur in cultures and at economic levels where the food supply is low. These families know "there is no sauce like hunger."

SECOND EXCEPTION

Nor does it occur where the parents don't know enough to be worried!

It is a problem of the conscientious parent, the parent who tries very hard to do the right thing for his or her (usually her) children.

They overdo it, they need to relax and let the child do some of his own growing up. Every child reaches the stage when he begins to be independent. He runs there when we say "come here." About the same time he declares his growing independence there is also a falling off in appetite.

The child has passed through a period of rapid growth, he is now getting used to his increased size and weight. He is, and feels himself to be, a bigger boy and wants to be treated as such.

"Me do" is a phrase that is frequently on his lips. Along with the natural decline in appetite and his growing feeling of self-confidence comes the discovery that he can get a strong reaction from his parents by refusing food. The tables are turned, this is one situation in which he can manage his parents.

They scold, coax, worry, threaten.

TOO INVOLVED

Most parents know that it is a losing battle but they are so involved emotionally that it is difficult for them to be sensible about it.

The first step is to do some practical thinking. Appetite is not constant, nor the same for all individuals; a bossy parent makes a balky child; a tired or over-excited child may show temporary loss of appetite, don't argue, let him rest; a jealous or worried child may turn away from his food.

Loss of appetite is a common problem and whatever the original cause may be it is aggra-

Kitchen Hazards Too Great

VANCOUVER (CP)—A housewife told safety experts Friday women face work hazards around the home which would never be condoned in industry.

Mrs. Lily Harper, who combines housewifely duties with acting and speech and drama instruction, told the B.C. Safety Association conference lack of time and bad planning of homes are major factors in causing domestic accidents.

WOMEN BLAMED

But she said women also have themselves to blame.

Particularly blameworthy, she said, is the wearing of wide-cuffed robes which catch on saucepan handles and clip-clopping mule shoes with no heel support which make for easy tripping.

LACK OF CONCERN

She also blamed lack of concern among women for frayed electric cords and worn stairway treads and negligence in leaving pills where children can reach them.

The kitchen is the most dangerous room in the house, she said. It is the scene of 23 per cent of home accidents.

Final Plans

Final plans for the Christmas gift bazaar to be held in Holyrood House, Nov. 28, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. were made at a recent meeting of the WA to the Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

Glittering Ceremony

Persian Beauty, 21, Shah's Third Choice

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The Shah of Iran presented a gold ring on a gold platter to a 21-year-old Persian beauty last night and thus made her his queen-to-be.

The 40-year-old shah's engagement to Farah Diba was formally announced at a glittering champagne party in the marble Imperial Palace in the presence of the Iranian cabinet and the monarch's family. The wedding date is Dec. 21.

Until the wedding, the shah ruled last night, Farah will live like the queen she will become. He directed that she should reside in the queen mother's palace until Dec. 21. Arrangements were made for her to move into the palace today.

The usually brooding shah — the "king of kings" to Iran-

Irving Berlin Reversal

Swedish Cinderella Maid Makes Social Register

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York society has put its seal of approval on Cinderella—Anne Marie Rasmussen Rockefeller made the social register.

The daughter of one of the nation's greatest song writers also was listed for the first time in the register which booted out her mother 33 years ago for marrying Irving Berlin. Their daughter, Linda, made it by marriage to registerite Edouard C. Smmet.

The 14-inch thick "bible" of New York society—officially Social Register, New York, 1960—came off the presses to be quickly thumbed for the social acceptability of marriages, divorces and assorted scandals.

ANNE MARIE RASMUSSEN ROCKEFELLER

Head of the list for many thumbers was the one-time housemaid whom Steven Rockefeller married in a Norwegian fishing village in August. The marriage choices of some other socially acceptables apparently put them out of the register, although it is always possible they've chosen to depart on their own.

Among those missing in the year of their marriages was Amory L. Haskell, one of America's most famed socialite horse fanciers, widower of a Standard Oil heiress, who married a one-time Wall Street stenographer, Blanche Rananhan Smith.

Also no longer social are Mr. and Mrs. E. Haring Chandor, who made headlines during the year with a bitter custody suit between Chandor, nephew of the noted portrait painter Douglas Chandor, and his Dupont heiress wife, Lisa Dean Chandor.

Boarding Isolation Aids Pupils

VANCOUVER (CP) — Boarding schools which isolate students from telephones, TV and radio produce a better type of scholar, J. Robert Coulter, new headmaster of St. Andrews College, Aurora, Ont., said here.

Mr. Coulter, in Vancouver to address a reunion of distinguished "old boys" from the independent school, said three short holidays and a summer vacation each year provide adequate home influence for students.

TV TALK

"A Clearing in the Woods," the second Canadian production in the Starline series will be seen tonight at 9:30 p.m. on channel 2 and 6.

Written by American author Arthur Laurents, the play was a Broadway hit of four years ago. The Canadian TV adaptation stars Nancy Wickwire and Barry Morse.

The American Starline production for tonight is "Ethel Merman on Broadway," and will be seen at 9:30 p.m. on channel 5.

Miss Merman's guests for an hour-long medley of show tunes from her Broadway hits are Hollywood actor-singers Tab Hunter and Fess Parker, and comedian Tom Poston.

Included in the medley will be "Every-thing's Coming-Ups Roses" from her current hit, "Gypsy," and "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun" and "The Girl That I Marry" from "Annie Get Your Gun," one of her first successes.

"Ladies and gentlemen, there is nothing wrong with your set."

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

Communist-Free Executive

Labor Election Slap At Castro Union Plan

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuban unionists rebuffed Premier Fidel Castro early Monday by electing a Communist-free executive committee for the CTC union federation.

The executive committee chosen by an overwhelming majority of delegates to the CTC convention included only three supporters of a Communist-backed "unity" plan, and all of them identify themselves as non-Communists.

Although Castro had appealed to the convention for unqualified adoption of the unity plan, only 16 of more than 3,000 delegates voted against the non-Communist executive slate. The Communists abstained.

The three unity supporters on the new executive committee were CTC Secretary General David Salvador, Jesus Soto and Jose M. de la Aguilera.

The election was denounced by Faustino Calines, leading proponent of the unity plan, and army Capt. Gustavo Mas, leader of the Airline Workers' Union.

Calines charged that the non-Communist slate gave important posts to "Mujallistas" — supporters of the regime ousted by Castro on New Year's Day.

Slithered to River

'Pushed' Boy Rides Sewer

NEW YORK (CP) — Police are searching for an unidentified "fat boy" who pushed a nine-year-old into a sewer and started him on a nightmare journey under the streets of upper Manhattan.

The younger boy, Antonio Batista, was rescued by police Saturday after he had been spewed from the sewer outlet into the Harlem River hundrreds of feet from the street manhole into which he had been pushed.

Playmates said Batista was set upon by a fat teen-aged boy who pushed him into the open manhole.

After the boy was pushed through the hole he toppled down a 15-foot shaft, then floated and slithered through 600 feet of sewer. As the water grew deeper the current grew swifter and kept him buoyed up until he passed through the outlet into the river.

"I prayed down there," he said later from his hospital bed. "I did not think I was going to die. It was dark and the water came up to my chest and I floated much of the way."

Police, called by the boy's companions, hurriedly conferred with sanitation department authorities and rushed to the sewer exit. Patrolman Anthony Taccia and detective Luther Evans plunged into the river and pulled the boy safely to shore.

The planes, big Flying Boxcars out of Hawaii, didn't see it. But several planes and a search vessel reported hearing radio signals, apparently from the capsule's radio.

The rocket shell, barren of instruments, is expected to orbit another two months.

Imported Strikebreakers Print Portland Paper

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Labor went on television Sunday night and claimed that Portland's two strike-bound daily newspapers imported professional strikebreakers to print their joint publication.

The 30-minute program came on the 13th day of a stereotypers' strike over work rules against The Oregonian and The Oregon Journal.

Union printers, pressmen, mailers, reporters and photographers have honored the picket line. The newspapers, however, joined forces and have published a joint edition.

Hurt Driver Lay in Water

AGASSIZ, B.C. (CP) — Vern Rouleau, 27, whose car plunged over an 85-foot embankment lay three hours in the shallow waters of Harrison Bay early Sunday before being found.

Today's Events

Victoria Kiwanis Club meets at 12.10 p.m. at the Empress Hotel to hear W. C. Mainwaring, president of the Peace River Power Development Co., speak on "The Power Potential of the Peace River".

Victoria North Kiwanis Club meets at 6.15 p.m. at the Monterey Restaurant to hear addresses from Warden F. C. B. Cummins of the B.C. Penitentiary and Harry Collins, chief supervisor of the William Head institution.

Teachers Name Spokesmen

DUNCAN — Two persons have been appointed to represent the Cowichan Teachers' Association in arbitration proceedings here for 1960 wages.

They are Jiro Miyazawa of Vancouver, an IWA research specialist, who will be a member of the three-man arbitration board. Presiding the teachers' case will be Stanley Evans, also of Vancouver, an assistant general secretary with the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Representing the board of School District 65 (Cowichan) are William R. McIntyre, on the board, and K. C. Murphy, who will plead their case. Both are Victoria lawyers.

The arbitration board has until Nov. 30 to appoint a chairman. Teachers are asking for an 11 per cent raise. Trustees have offered to match the highest paid 1959 salaries now being paid in comparable districts on the Island.

'Jockeys' Deny Charges:

Nehru:

Must Make Arms

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru Sunday declared India must make its own arms to be independent of foreign "armament kings."

He told a meeting of his Congress party the whole business of buying arms was "fraught with grave risks."

"It is full of all kinds of tricks and underhanded things," he said. "The armament kings bring pressure of a terrific nature on countries urgently needing arms."

Nehru said India needed a heavy industry of its own and appealed to Indians to make the necessary sacrifices to defend their country against Chinese Communist border attacks.

LONDON (AP) — British disc jockeys Monday angrily denied charges by a member of Parliament that they are mixed up in song-plugging rackets on radio and television.

Labor MP Roy Mason wants a government ban on all pop records programs until a full-scale inquiry has dealt with charges of corruption.

"The evidence suggests that undesirable practices are taking place," he said.

Songstress Alma Cogan, who also runs a record program, snapped: "I always pay for my milk coats."

A spokesman for Britain's major recording companies disclosed a secret "disc charter" banning under the counter payments to disc jockeys.

Said the official: "We saw what was happening in America where you can't get a disc on the air without first lining somebody's pocket, and we knew the dangers of it spreading in England."

"So we got together to stop it at the start."

"Naturally we wine and dine disc jockeys and try to persuade them to play our discs. But that's only normal business practice."

Mines Launch Safety Drive

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Mining Association of British Columbia has decided to launch an intensified campaign to cut down on accident tolls which has cost 18 lives so far this year compared with five in 1958.

Change of Scene at Edges

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

In planning out your annual flower beds for next year, I think it might pay you to give a little thought to the edging plants used for placing a low-growing border of contrasting color around the bed. When edging subjects are mentioned, nine out of 10 gardeners will think immediately of the plants they use for this purpose year after year--either the blue lobelia or the white sweet alyssum.

I have no quarrel with alyssum or lobelia. They are both excellent, long-blooming, compact subjects of the easiest possible culture, but a change is as good as a rest, and there are a lot of other small annual flowers which are suitable in every way to decorate the border of the flower beds.

Silene compacta, for instance, is a little honey, making a flat, bushy plant about a foot in diameter and from two to six inches tall. It has rich green foliage which becomes almost hidden under a profuse mass of bright rose-crimson flowers, and these continue in bloom pretty well throughout the summer.

An old favorite of mine is Phacelia campanularia, the Copenhagen Bluebell, seeds of which were distributed free to Colonist readers a couple of years ago. Incidentally, one Salt Spring Island reader tells me that these little bluebells, grown from Colonist seeds, are blooming happily as houseplants in the homes of the only three white women at Spence Bay, away up on the Boothia Peninsula in the Northwest Territories.

As an outdoor edging plant, the Copenhagen Bluebell makes about the same size as a lobelia, but with upturned flowers in a particularly lovely shade of blue, and each with a tiny white "eye."

Phacelia doesn't stay in bloom as long as lobelia and alyssum, but it is an easy matter to drop a few pinches of seed from time to time through the summer, and thereby keep a succession of young plants coming along. The plant seeds itself quite readily too, and you can usually find thousands of "volunteers" springing up wherever they have been grown.

Another annual of easy culture is Nemophila insignis, sometimes called Baby Blue Eyes. The flowers are about an inch across, sky blue in shade, and produced in great numbers over a very long period of time. Seeds can be sown where they are to grow, or young plants may be raised in a coldframe and transplanted when the bedding annuals are set out.

Nemophila associates particularly well with Limnanthes Douglasii, the Foached Egg Flower. This one has yellow daisy-like flowers daintily edged in frilly white lace, rising from tufts of ferny, finely-cut foliage. It likes a moist soil and plenty of sun, and under these conditions will continue in bloom well into the autumn. Limnanthes is as hardy as a cabbage, and seeds can go in any time the soil is dry enough to work.

The Viewing World

By John Crosby

Reflections here on the cancerous growth of childhood all over the world of entertainment have released some long pent up bitterness among the cash customers. There's an Englishman in town who saw the "Sound of Music." It drove him over the thin red line of sanity. He announced to one and all he was going to go straight home and strangle his little ones.

Fortunately, the Atlantic Ocean intervened. He's under treatment. No theatre. No situation comedies on TV. His friends are keeping him in saloons where he never sees anyone under forty and are telling him dirty stories, unsuitable for children or--for that matter--anyone else.

Just the same it might be advisable for all of us to keep our small fry in the cellar until this wave of bitterness blows over. It's been a long time in coming--the Revolt of the Grown-Ups--and if we want to avoid bloodshed, we'd best keep the kiddies under cover for a while.

It's not that I'm against the little tots. It's just that they've gone too far. And where--I keep asking--did it all start? (I'm a trend-spotter by nature and we trend-spotters are constantly asking ourselves questions like "Where did it all start?" or, failing that, "Whither will it all end?") I think I've pinpointed the exact moment when the little monsters got out of hand. It was when the first little moppet dashed up to a camera and squealed, "Look, Mom, no cavities!"

The trouble started when they wired the little beggars for sound. Reason tottered when the little darlings began exclaiming in their high-pitched voices: "My mommy made me use Ipana." Strong men began coming unglued when that itty bitty girl quavered into the camera: "Hudson paper tissues tear so straight."

Well, of course, Hudson paper tissues tear so straight. But do I have to find this out from five-year-old girls? I'm a grown man. Been earning my own living for years. I take subways by myself and everything, changing to the express at Fourteenth Street, and complicated stuff like that. I don't need some five-year-old kid to tell me Hudson paper tissues tear so straight.

20 Pass 20 Pass
30 Pass 40 All Pass

Opening lead: ♠ 5

The use of a temporizing bid is often unavoidable. After North's spade response, South felt that his hand was worth more than a simple rebid of one no-trump or two hearts, while certainly not strong enough for two no-trump. Thus he chose two diamonds, which--as this partnership plays--is virtually a one-round force. North showed his preference. South made another try, and North accepted.

Declarer ducked the club lead on the board; East played the ten, and South won the ace. A low spade was led, West ducked, and dummy's king won. The heart three was taken by South's ace, and the spade nine led, West winning the ace. West returned the club jack. East covered dummy's queen with the king, and another club was won by West.

Next West led the diamond five. East played the king, and South took the ace. Declarer had lost three tricks, and the future looked bleak. Apparently only a 3/3 split in spades could save the day, but there was one more slight chance. South led the heart jack, and when West played the ten, he overtook with dummy's queen to ruff a low spade. The heart nine furnished an entry for dummy's two high spades and gave declarer a parking spot for his two diamond losers. If West's heart ten had not dropped, South would have had to play a low heart from the board and rely upon a favorable spade break, and this, of course, would have been no dice. But the fall of the ten gave him a chance of which he took full advantage.

TORONTO (CP)—A 16-year-old boy whose car was pelted with rocks by his girl friend's father last week has apologized for his behavior.

Frederick Sullivan found the youth kissing his daughter in the car and threw two rocks through the window causing $108 damage. A magistrate dismissed a charge of wilful damage against Mr. Sullivan and congratulated him for taking such an interest in his daughter's welfare.

The damage was paid by the boy who cashed in his life insurance policy.

"The boy told me he was sorry and that he reckoned I did the best thing in throwing those rocks," said Mr. Sullivan.

'Sitting Bull' Killed By 'Geronimo'

OMAK, Wash. (AP)—A game of "Indian chiefs" by three small Indian boys who tired of chasing a deer with light rifles ended in death yesterday for Lyle Peone, 12.

One boy became "Geronimo." Young Peone was "Sitting Bull."

Geronimo aimed his .22-calibre rifle at Sitting Bull, the gun went off and the Peone boy was killed.

LONDON (UPI)—Kremlin silence on summit preparations yesterday caused speculation in the west that the heads of government meeting planned for next spring might be put off at least until after the 1960 U.S. presidential election.

A crowded timetable of separate summit parleys in the next few months, private squabbles which must be settled among the western allies and among the Communist bloc underlined uncertainty about just when an East-West summit conference would be held.

The diplomatic correspondent of the London Times reported that "doubts" are being voiced about the possibility of holding a summit meeting after all.

Diplomatic observers pointed to the recent silence of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who in the past has been urging a summit parley "the sooner the better."

Biggest and Best Surprise Package

Big surprise awaited veteran Cougar hockey team forward Doug Macauley yesterday when he arrived home after an exhausting two-week road trip with his team. Wife, Eileen, presented him with a new son, Martin, born about eight days ago and almost two weeks ahead of schedule. It didn't take Doug long to get into the act. The couple also has a two-year-old son, Jim. (Colonist photo.)

Bearded Drunk Starts 13,000-Car Tangle

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than 13,000 motor vehicles were caught in a rush-hour traffic jam late Monday as two priests and a fire department captain coaxed a man down from the top of a 400-foot-high tower of Lions Gate Bridge.

The span was closed for three hours while a bearded man clung to the girder, totting a bottle and cursing in French.

He was finally persuaded to inch his way down the fog-shrouded structure by Roman Catholic priests who spoke to him in French over a megaphone. Fire department Capt. Ralph Rogers climbed to within reaching distance to talk to him.

Police later identified him as Etienne LeClerc, 45, of nearby New Westminster.

Meanwhile, north and south-bound traffic piled up as police cleared the span for fire trucks, police vehicles and an ambulance. Some traffic was re-routed to Second Narrows Bridge, seven miles up Burrard Inlet, but that crossing was closed temporarily when a span was lifted to let a tug through.

"An atomic bomb couldn't have caused as much chaos as that one man," a police official said.

As motorists listened to the developments over their car radios, police appealed to them not to become too anxious. They even suggested they have their suppers downtown.

TB Villain Isolated

DENVER (AP)—The matter believed to cause tuberculosis, most deadly killer of infectious diseases, has been isolated for the first time, the research director of National Jewish Hospital said Monday night.

Dr. Gardner Middlebrook said the next step in developing an immunization, agent against tuberculosis is to convert the material which causes TB so that it will produce antibodies. The material is called sulfolipid.

Worst Flood in Years Drenches Washington

Travel Brought To Halt

SEATTLE (AP)—Huge slides and rampaging rivers, touched off by a week-long deluge with up to 13½ inches of rain, cut cross-state travel to a trickle Monday and marooned hundreds in lower valleys.

Urgent state-federal rescue operations were under way in many lowland areas of western Washington.

Major rail and traffic routes through the Cascade mountains were blocked late Sunday and through the night.

Highway department crews cleared a circuitous link between the east and west sides through the state's midsection shortly after daybreak.

A woman motorist, Hazel K. Caddell, 64, of Leavenworth, Wash., was killed in a mountain pass accident. Scores of other drivers were trapped temporarily by slides in the Cascades.

Several small towns were being partially evacuated. Scores of farm homes were isolated.

The civil defence, air patrol, state agencies and military services joined in rescue work. Brig. Gen. William F. Cassidy, assistant chief of army engineers, telephoned from Washington, D.C. instructing regional officials to give full aid.

RESOURCES MINISTER
HAMILTON

'See Alaska' Drive Boon To Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian tourist industry was urged Monday to capitalize on the growing desire among Americans to see Alaska, the 49th state.

Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton linked this desire with improved access to Alaska provided by the Trans-Canada Highway as factors fraught with possibilities for the travel trade.

Mr. Hamilton said the much-publicized campaign in the United States to "travel U.S.A. in 1960" was "the best thing that ever happened to Canada."

Hundreds Made Homeless

SEATTLE (AP)—Western Washington's worst floods in 26 years reached a crest Monday night after turning lowland areas into inland seas and virtually cutting off land travel across the Cascade Mountains.

New trouble was dispelled as a high-pressure ridge shunted aside another rainstorm moving in from the Pacific. No more rain is expected before Thursday.

RECORD HIGH

Rivers were at record or near record heights after wreaking havoc in lower valleys. Hundreds fled their homes or were carried to safety by helicopters, powerboats and amphibious craft.

Vast areas of the Snohomish, Snoqualmie and Green River valleys within a radius of about 50 miles of Seattle were under water. Stock huddled on high ground or stood belly deep in the swirling water. Farm homes were isolated islands in a wide muddy belt of floods.

The loss is expected to reach millions. No exact estimate could be made until rivers start to subside.

Giant mud and rock slides loosened by a mixture of too much rain, wind and warmth tumbled down in the Cascades Sunday night and early Monday, blocking main cross-state highways and rail lines.

PASSENGERS MAROONED

Ninety passengers were marooned 10 hours in a stalled train before getting out to safety.

Heavily travelled four-lane U.S. 10, the state's principal east-west route, had a 300-foot chunk gouged out by the Snoqualmie River.

Governor Albert Rosellini declared Snohomish County, in eastern Washington north of Seattle, a major disaster area. There was only one death reported. A woman motorist, Hazel K. Caddell, 64, was killed in a mountain pass accident before Cascade highways were closed.

TRICKY COMBINATION

A tricky weather combination was to blame for the flood-slide trouble. Week-long rains totalled up to 13½ inches in the mountains, including 5.71 inches in 24 hours at one Cascade station. Then came unseasonal warmth, with temperatures of 45-50 recorded in mountain passes. This was accompanied by a chinook, the western name for a strong warm variable wind.

Lord's Day Act

Sunday Theatre To Face Charges

WINNIPEG (CP)—City police yesterday said they would seek permission to prosecute officials of the international film festival who charged for a movie Sunday after being warned in advance their actions would be investigated under the Lord's Day Act which restricts Sunday entertainment where admission is charged.

Morality officers Sunday night visited the uptown theatre where about 1,300 persons attended a performance of "Cranes are Flying." Many of the persons in attendance paid admission at the box office.

Chief Robert Taft said yesterday he had warned the operators of the film festival last week that if they carried out their plans to show the movie that the facts would be obtained and forwarded to the attorney-general with a request that he authorize permission to prosecute under the Lord's Day Act.

The incident was the latest of several involving the Lord's Day Act.

Assassin Fails

PESHAWAR, Pakistan (Reuters)—Tribal unrest in Afghanistan flared into violence last week when a would-be assassin hurled a hand grenade at Foreign Minister Sardar Mohammed Naim in the remote capital of Kabul.

The unconfirmed reports said 53-year-old Naim and his driver escaped uninjured when the grenade smashed the windshield of their car Wednesday.

Stolen Painting Frames Found in City Dump

VANCOUVER (CP)—RCMP said Monday they have located the 24 frames of a $40,000 collection of paintings stolen from the University of British Columbia earlier this month. There was no sign of the paintings themselves.

Police said the thieves apparently had taken the paintings from the frames carefully. The canvases had not been cut out.

VIEWS of SPORT

By Red Smith

It is now established almost beyond dispute that Ingemar Johansson, the Swedish Brando, is the greatest heavyweight champion since John L. Sullivan toured the music halls as the hero of that stirring drama of 1890, "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands."

Oh, perhaps there'll be a few antiquarians holding out for James J. Corbett in the title role of "Gentleman Jack" or even for his earlier performance in "Sport McAllister," but it is the feeling here that no other stage-struck pug ever matched the quality of Ingo's impersonation of a Swedish prize fighter in last Friday night's television production of "The Killers," by A. E. Hotchner out of Ernest Hemingway by caesarian section.

Because we hardly ever see heavyweight champions in the ring today we must compare them on the basis of their unbloody public appearances. Even before his histrionic talent was revealed, Johansson was recognized as a man of many gifts—a business and industrial tycoon, a comely model for Scandinavian haberdashers, an agile and tireless operative on the ballroom floor, a master of public relations and a peerless knight ever at the beck of damsels in distress.

Although we have been vouchsafed only one fleeting glimpse of him as a gladiator, he must be accorded a lofty position in pugilistic history because we had it on the unbiased word of Cus D'Amato that the man he destroyed with one fearful blow, Floyd Patterson, was the mightiest warrior born of woman.

Champ on the Floor

Now on top of everything else we learn that this viking demigod is an artist of sensitivity and taste, a Scandinavian Booth with sex appeal, touched with the theatrical genius of an Archie Moore or a Rocky Graziano. When was there ever a heavyweight champion like this?

Fact is, Ingemar did a first-rate job in a dreadful parody. What A. E. Hotchner did to Ernest Hemingway shouldn't happen to Frankie Carbo or fat Tony Salerno. At every station break, there appeared on the screen the sculptured head of Hemingway, looking like the divine Homer with adolescent pimples. One kept expecting it to burst out screaming.

Not that Hotchner should get all the blame. His assignment was to take a jewel of a short story which can be read in a few gripping minutes, and stretch it, pad it, adulterate, deflower and pervert it to the demands of a show running 90 minutes.

It was a tough job but it was accomplished, by borrowing the same creative devices which have made "Portia Faces Life" an American classic. From an hour and a half, perhaps five minutes of honest Hemingway emerged.

The Battling Promoters

As soon as the horrid deed was done, Johansson took flight for Switzerland, pausing only long enough to repeat that he had no interest in the plans of Vincent J. Velella for a return match with Patterson. Velella, who never has promoted a fight and perhaps never will, is the nominal holder of the contract for a rematch with Patterson.

It may be possible to describe rather simply the situation regarding the heavyweight title, without trying to unsnarl the tangle of promotional interests. It comes down, basically, to this:

There is one big fight in Johansson's immediate future. This is the return bout with Patterson, a million-dollar shot in almost anybody's hands. There are three reasons why Johansson may be expected to take it: (a) Nowhere else can he make so much money; (b) he has $100,000 in escrow to guarantee the return match; (c) he promised Patterson the rematch and almost everything he has said and done indicates that he means to keep his word.

Where and when the return bout might be fought remains to be seen. Almost everybody connected with last June's promotion is under suspension, under suspicion or under the bed.

Pro Football War Declared As New League Drafts Stars

The newly-formed American Football League made a bold bid for survival yesterday by drafting 88 of the top graduating college stars in the United States.

Each of the eight cities given franchises in the AFL—Minneapolis-St. Paul, Boston, Buffalo, Dallas, Denver, Houston,

New York and Los Angeles—selected 11 players.

Nanaimo Puts Break On Runaway Leaders

NANAIMO—Powell River Regale, who lost their first game in seven Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League starts here Saturday, can thank goalkeeper Doug Lessor for the fact they salvaged one point out of a weekend doubleheader with Nanaimo Labatts.

Lessor, who stopped 39 shots as Nanaimo beat the leaders, 4-2, Saturday, blocked 45 more Sunday in a 4-1 tie.

After Bob Kiel put Powell River ahead early in the game, Labatts' Jim Peterson scored three straight goals—two within four seconds—for a 3-1 first-period lead. Powell River came back with Rudy Pantano getting two and George White one in the second period.

Don Smith finally tied it up for good with a goal a little more than four minutes from the end.

Powell River—Lessor: Bergeron, Kinsch, Bailey, Henderson, Kiel, Lincol, Anderson, White, Pantano, Floutie, Goodridge, Chorney, Brethel.

Nanaimo—Lamley: Wilgess, Robinson, Jurian, Dugan, Zubak, Smith, Sutherland, Duncan, Plouffe, Berry, Peterson, Medley, Schreman, Wheatcroft, Schreman, R. Valiere.

FIRST PERIOD
1. Powell River, Kiel (Linn) 7:52.
2. V and R in O. Peterson (Substant) 10:05.

3. Nanaimo, Peterson (Dugan, Smith) 14:00.

4. Nanaimo, Peterson (Dugan) 14:04.

Penalties: Wilgess 8:27, Kinschanka 10:47.

SECOND PERIOD

'Poor' Navy Wins, 7-1 Before Biggest Crowd

left for a 4-3 victory. It was Patterson's second straight win after losing their first three starts.

Neil Standley, who missed Navy's first two matches, led his club with two goals and one assist. He now has seven goals and five assists to the lineate John Bond, who scored twice last night for a six-goal total, at the head of the league's scoring list.

Close-checking Army team was close until Navy's four-goal third period and saw several early shots just miss. Army, which has lost four in a row after an opening win, was led by Carl Kispira, who has scored the soldiers' two goals in their last two games.

Vics appeared to have the opener when Bryan Erb scored on a rink-length rush at 2:18 of the final period, but John Makowski, whose eight goals lead the circuit, tied it at 16:34 with his second of the night and Ab Wiebe set up Orville Coulter with the winner on a power play at 19:48.

Victoria Shamrocks defence man Derry Davies, out with Patterson for the first time, got an assist on the first goal. Both winning teams had a big edge in shots, Pattersons being ahead 32-20 and Navy 38-15.

SECOND BATTLE

Another battle was shaping up for the Minneapolis-St. Paul territory with the NFL reported ready to expand to 14 clubs by adding two clubs, one of which would be the Twin Cities.

At the moment, the NFL seems to have the inside track. Gerald Moore, spokesman for the commission supervising Metropolitan Stadium, where pro football would be played by a Minneapolis-St. Paul entry, said the commission would give preference to an NFL entry if two bids were made.

For Gas, Oil

Salt Spring Drilling Set

By ALEC MERRIMAN

Drilling for natural gas and oil will start at the north end of Salt Spring Island this winter, it was learned last night.

If natural gas is discovered it will be piped into a submarine pipeline and used to serve Vancouver Island consumers.

Ralph Farris, president of Charter Oil Co. Ltd., said an 8,000-foot hole is envisaged to test all the sedimentary formations. "We said there is a wide area in the north of Salt Spring Island where drilling might be carried out."

It is expected that Canadian

Collieries, Pacific Petroleum Ltd., Imperial Oil and California Standard will also participate in the drilling and post drilling geological studies.

Mr. Farris said no contract has yet been signed with the other companies, but that they participated in the drilling and geological work on a 4,000-foot drill on Saturna Island in 1958 and that geological reports after that first well were favorable.

Only Third Well

Although there has been considerable oil and gas exploration work in the southern coastal areas in past years, the Salt Spring well will be only the third well to be drilled in the area.

The others are the Saturna well in 1958 by Charter Oil and a 6,000-foot well drilled three years ago on the Tsawwassen Indian Reserve by Great Plains Corp., backed by Texas money.

Neither produced, but both drillings proved encouraging.

Submarine Pipeline

Charter owns 50 per cent of Magna and the drilling for natural gas is closely tied in with the plans for a submarine pipeline.

Some plans for the pipeline were unfolded at a Public Utilities Commission hearing in July and complete details will be made known when the hearing resumes in Victoria in December.

Opposing the Magna application is the Island Transmission Co. Ltd., which is related to the Vancouver Island Gas Co., which serves Nanaimo. At the December hearing, Island Transmission will submit its own plans for a natural gas pipeline to Vancouver Island.

Mr. Farris said discovery of natural gas on Salt Spring would be "very commercially attractive because of the immediate market on Vancouver Island . . . discovery of oil, of course, would also be attractive."

He said if natural gas were discovered, it would be piped to Vancouver Island to supply, or supplement the supply of natural gas in Victoria, Nanaimo and the Alberni.

Parks Mean Jobs At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — Parks development could become a major item in providing winter employment in this district, C. J. Harman, local manager of the National Employment Service, said during discussion at the recent regular meeting of Alberni Valley winter employment committee.

"We are not overburdened with parks here," he said. The chamber of commerce intends to follow up promises of department of recreation officials to improve Smith's Landing and Stamp Falls parks in this district, Fred W. Stansfield, chamber delegate to the committee, stated. There is also a prospect of having a small boat launching ramp built by the government at Cameron Lake, Mr. Stansfield said.

Kiwanian Fred King suggested that service clubs contemplating park projects could work through municipal bodies with the idea of obtaining incentive grants to extend the projects.

Alberni Club Seeks Members

PORT ALBERNI — Alberni District Canadian Club, one of this community's longest-established organizations, is seeking new members.

"Though active and well organized, the Canadian Club finds itself in need of many more members to bring its numbers up to the required quota," Alfred Plant, a veteran member said.

"Usually once a month the club brings to the city outstanding speakers of national importance. With the aim of advancing Canadian unity, the club endeavors to increase its members' knowledge of the country, the issues before it, its vast distances and its economic problems.

"All sections of the community are welcomed, irrespective of political faith, religious background or national origin. It aims to welcome and integrate new Canadians into the life of the nation, to encourage a greater appreciation of citizenship, to publicize Canadian authorship and art, and foster a consciousness of Canadian history, both national and local," Mr. Plant said.

The next two meetings of the club will be held in the Anglican Hall at Sixth Avenue and Angus Street. They will be on Dec. 8 and Jan. 19.

At the December meeting, colored slides will illustrate a talk entitled "Behind the Iron Curtain" by G. F. Dunn, a Victoria businessman.

In January, G. Elliott of the University of B.C. will speak. On the program for a later date is Roderick Haig-Brown, well-known B.C. author.

Club president, Mrs. Joyce Horner, phone 393Y, or Mrs. Alfred Plant, phone 791, will provide further information to those who may be interested in joining the club.

Car Crash Victim Still 'Poor'

DUNCAN — Mrs. Esther Forbes of Mill Bay, injured five days ago in an accident involving a car and a truck near Cobble Hill, is still in poor condition in hospital.

She has broken legs, a broken arm and head and chest injuries. Five persons were injured.

Month-Old Baby Found In Arms of Drunk Woman

ALBERNI — A one-month-old baby was taken to West Coast General Hospital Saturday night after being found in the arms of an intoxicated woman lying beside River Road within the city limits.

Social welfare officials were notified.

The scantily clad infant was found with Mrs. Clotilla Saxey and Tony Joseph, both of whom pleaded guilty in Alberni court yesterday morning to being intoxicated off the reserve.

Joseph, with a long record of similar offences, was fined $35. The woman, appearing for the first time in Alberni court, was assessed $16.50 in fines and costs.

Rare Set of Antlers

Rarely seen is a nice spread of antlers like this seven-pointer shot Saturday at Gordon River by Clive Walton, 25, of Duncan. Dressed it weighs about 185 pounds. The spread is rare because usually by the fifth or sixth years, when a deer is getting past his prime, the antlers are broken off.

Pender Canal To Be Dredged

PENDER ISLAND — The canal separating North and South Pender Islands will be dredged, according to word received from Ottawa by the Pender Island Chamber of Commerce. This will make the channel safer and more attractive to the yachting public.

The letter further states that the expenditure is being included in the 1960-61 estimates as being in the national interest inasmuch as the economy of the Gulf Islands area is so largely dependent upon the tourist industry.

The 600-foot-long canal connecting Bedwell Harbor and Browning Harbor will be dredged to provide six feet of water at low tide over a 60-foot width.

The Pender Chamber requested the dredging after the opening of the Bedwell Harbor custom's port last May resulted in thousands of pleasure craft coming into the area and experiencing difficulty in navigating the canal, which had not been dredged since it was cut through in 1902. The Chamber's request was strongly endorsed by the Council of British Columbia Yacht Clubs, in Victoria.

Nanaimo 'Servants' Make Wage Protest

NANAIMO (CP) — The Nanaimo joint action committee of the public servants organization of Canada has prepared a brief to be sent to the federal government to protest refusal to grant civil servants wage increases.

It says: "The government of Canada has chosen the easy way to solve its financial problems at the expense of one segment of the economy denied the benefits of collective bargaining."

The brief says fiscal difficulties should be shared by every segment of the country.

No Time To Get Licence

DUNCAN — A 16-year-old Cowichan Indian who bought a car and was having so much fun he didn't have time to get a driver's licence until he was in an accident, was fined a total of $38 yesterday.

He pleaded guilty to charges of driving without a driver's licence and careless driving after he almost wrecked the car seven days after he bought it.

Police said he drove into a telephone pole and did some $250 damage to the car. At the time he told police his brakes failed. In court police said skid marks were visible.

Victoria Car Thieves Held in Duncan Jail

DUNCAN — Three Victoria juveniles who admitted stealing a car in Duncan to drive home, were remanded in custody until Friday for sentencing.

Judge A. C. Sutton gave the remand when probation officers indicated they want more time to prepare further reports on the youths for the court's decision.

A 16-year-old admitted five previous court appearances, the last three for breaking and entering. "I thought he was going to go straight," said his mother.

"The more you lay down the

Dog, Gull Hooked On Fishboat

CAMPBELL RIVER — A dog and a seagull accidentally caught on barbed hooks aboard a fishboat moored here Sunday, were rescued by an RCMP constable.

The dog was hooked by the nose and the gull by a wing, police said.

The smell of former bait on the sharp halibut hooks apparently attracted the bird and the dog.

Casual Job 'Important'

PORT ALBERNI — The importance of the casual job was stressed by C. J. Harman, local manager, National Employment Service, at the meeting of the winter employment committee.

He pointed out that, while a few hours' work will not affect the benefits being drawn from NES, "a couple of bucks means a lot to an unemployed man."

Duncan Chamber Beauty Spots To Be Stressed

DUNCAN — The Duncan Cowichan Chamber of Commerce will direct its efforts this winter to make local scenic sites more attractive and accessible to tourists.

One of the main things will be access roads and direction signs to the spots, said R. B. Evans, chamber president, last night.

Of the sites, Mr. Evans said, "They are there, if tourists can find them."

He suggested a garden around the Old Stone Church and steps leading up to it, as well as better roads to Mount Prevost and Skutz Falls.

YOUR CHRISTMAS MAIL

- 1 Buy your stamps now and avoid the Christmas rush. 2 and 5 cent stamps are available in handy dollar packages for your convenience.
- 2 Check your mailing list for correct postal addresses. When mailing to Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec, be sure to include the Postal Zone Number.
- 3 Tie your out-of-town mail and local mail in separate bundles. Attach the labels that the Post Office supplies. This speeds delivery. Be sure to put your return address on the envelopes.
- 4 Parcels should be wrapped well and tied with strong cord. Print the address. And put your return address outside and inside the parcel. Have parcels weighed at your neighbourhood Post Office.
- 5 Mail early. Nothing is so disappointing as Christmas mail that arrives too late. A Post Office booklet will be delivered to your home giving suggested mailing dates.

A young mother with only one small child can usually find someone to provide day care while she goes back to work to earn a living for two people. ## 'Christmas Package' BCE Bus May Ease Footsore Shoppers

A B.C. Electric bus specially painted to resemble a Christmas package may circulate throughout the downtown shopping area in December for the benefit of footsore shoppers.

Operation of the bus would be underwritten by city businesses acting through the retail merchants' committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and a nominal fare of five cents would be charged to passengers.

The bus would circulate around the main shopping district along Douglas, Fort, Government and Yates at five to 10-minute intervals, depending on whether one or two buses are put into service.

Roy Denny, chairman of the merchants' committee, will meet with BCE officials today in an effort to complete details of the service. He said he will try to get merchants' support for a two-bus service starting Dec. 1.

BCE Willing To Listen

A B.C. Electric transportation department official said yesterday his company is prepared to listen to any suggestions for increasing passenger traffic "with an open mind."

The statement came from H. R. Halls, Victoria transportation manager, who said he and other officials will meet with one of the prime critics of local bus service, Reeve A. C. Wurtelle of Esquimalt, later this week.

Reeve said recently that the BCE should try new ways of encouraging more passengers rather than complain that there are not enough passengers for a more frequent evening service.

"We have already tried several things," Mr. Halls pointed out yesterday, "among them a more frequent service which was not patronized by sufficient numbers and which had to be gradually whittled down."

He added that "if Reeve Wurtelle has anything concrete that doesn't involve a great deal of money and a relatively small return, we would be glad to hear it."

Egg Influx Cuts Price Five Cents

A heavy flow of eggs from the prairie provinces hit the Pacific coast egg market over the weekend and caused a sharp fall in prices.

Mrs. Thomas To Stand As Trustee

Mrs. J. M. Thomas, 4781 Timber Place, announced yesterday she will seek election to the school board of District 63.

Mrs. Thomas is the wife of Dr. J. M. Thomas, principal of Mount View High School before his retirement, and, she said, has been "interested in education all my life." She was a school trustee in Saskatchewan before coming to Victoria more than 20 years ago.

Her election, Mrs. Thomas said, would place a woman on the District 63 school board for the first time in several years.

Mayor Percy Scurrell has had a reply-of sorts to his letter to Prime Minister Diefenbaker objecting to an implication that West Coast shipyards are inefficient.

The mayor wrote in connection with reported remarks of a transport department official that West Coast yards ought to reorganize, after eastern yards submitted the lowest bids and received contracts for two freighters.

Mr. Diefenbaker referred his letter to the public works minister, and the minister, David J. Walker, has written to the mayor about "your concern about any misunderstanding which may lie behind the discrepancy between departmental estimates and the low tenders" on a proposed new dredge.

He assures the mayor that the decision on a contract for the dredge will be made soon.

New City Centre To Help Children

The disabled as well as children with speech and hearing problems will benefit from the opening yesterday of a new centre at 470 Gorge Road East.

It will be operated by the B.C. Foundation for Child Care, Polio Myelitis and Rehabilitation in co-operation with the B.C. Society for Crippled Children.

The joint office will provide preventive and treatment services for polio victims and other disabled persons. The program includes a speech clinic for children under 16.

Health Minister Eric Martin, who declared the premises officially open, paid tribute to the work of volunteer agencies in the fight against ill health.

"A leave it to Charlie attitude is the one that defeats us in the battle against disease," the minister said. "Fortunately here in B.C. the situation is quite the reverse."

VERY FORTUNATE
"We are really very fortunate because we have in this province a strongly organized army of voluntary agencies, composed of dedicated people, who are doing their best in some particular health problem."

Robert J. Harvey, vice-president of joint management committee, told guests at the opening the centre will provide "more comprehensive treatment" than was available before its establishment.

GROW QUICKLY
"One part of the program that we expect to grow quickly here is the speech clinic," he said. The clinic was set up under a $100,000 province-wide program sponsored by the polio foundation.

Executive secretary of the joint office here is Alan G. F. Sutton, formerly an executive of the Massey-Harris Company in eastern Canada.

Challenge To Smith Unanswered

A challenge from Ald. Arthur Dowell to mayoralty candidate J. Donald Smith has gone unanswered so far, Ald. Dowell said yesterday.

The alderman, chairman of city council lands committee, early last week challenged Mr. Smith to appear before council to substantiate, if he could, implications about city property dealings "that reflect on the integrity of every member of city council, particularly me."

He said if Mr. Smith or any other citizen would bring forward specific allegations, he would move that council order an investigation.

Ald. Dowell wouldn't comment yesterday on the lack of an answer.

"I'll comment on Thursday if he doesn't come to the council meeting," he said. "And if he does come!"

Two setbacks Sunday have failed to discourage Miss Jessie Read, 1762 Pembroke, in her confidence that she'll recapture her wandering tame cock pheasant, Cherry.

Ever since the big bird escaped from her home a week ago Sunday, when high winds broke a window, she has followed every lead, every report that the bird had been sighted.

BOTH CORRECT
Sunday she had two reports, both correct.

First was from the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Murphy, 2558 Scott, Miss Read found Cherry there all right, and was able to get close enough to feed him. However, despite help from Mr. Murphy, the bird took off just in time to avoid actual recapture.

ONCE MORE
Later he was found in a garden at 1603 Bay, and once more Miss Read almost had him when a door was slammed in a neighboring house.

"It sounded like a gun," said Miss Read, "and he flew away."

TOWARD HOME
The bird's owner took heart from the fact that Cherry's last flight was toward her own home.

Special Controls Give Right-of-Way

Special traffic control boxes have been placed at strategic intersections in Victoria to give city fire department vehicles the right-of-way during emergency runs.

They are located at Yates and Cook, Cook and Pandora, and along Bay at Cook, Quadra, Blanshard, Douglas and Government.

Lights turn red in all directions at any one of these corners when a control box hanging above the intersection is activated by a radio beam transmitted from an emergency vehicle racing towards the intersection.

At the same instant that intersection lights turn red, a white monitor lights flips on to let the firemen know they have the right-of-way. If the white light flashes on and off, it means that still another emergency vehicle has priority right-of-way.

Motorists should exert extra caution at these intersections and stop immediately if the light turns red, to avoid possibility of a serious collision, a fire department spokesman warned.

Bylaws Passed

Pay for Reeve, Council Approved in Oak Bay

Oak Bay council last night approved annual salaries of $1,800 for the reeve and $600 for each of the six councillors, effective Jan. 1.

Two amended bylaws concerning the salaries issue were passed by votes of 4 to 3, with Reeve George Murdoch and Councillors Fred Robinson and Allan Cox opposing.

The reeve will receive monthly payments of $150 towards an overall sum of $1,800 which includes $1,200 for services and $600 for expenses.

Each councillor will receive monthly payments of $50 towards the $600 which includes $400 for services and $200 for expenses.

City Hospitals

Shortage Of Beds Worse

Victoria's two general hospitals yesterday reported the chronic bed shortage as being slightly more acute than at this time one year ago.

A St. Joseph's Hospital spokesman reported a waiting list of about 80 prospective patients and a Royal Jubilee Hospital official said elective surgery patients are being booked a month ahead.

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, said some surgery has had to be postponed after already being scheduled.

Cowichan to Hear Hospital Troubles

LAKE COWICHAN — Trustees of the hospital improvement district here are holding public meetings this week to explain their bogged-down position.

Meetings are scheduled for Wednesday at Youbou and Thursday at Honeycomb Bay. First meeting was held here last night.

Health Minister Eric Martin has told a special Cowichan hospital planning group he would not approve a hospital here. The group proposed an annex to King's Daughters' Hospital, 24 miles east of here at Duncan.

The minister reiterated his department's view that a hospital here is not economically sound. The hospital planning group is holding a meeting tonight at Duncan. A sub-committee is to bring in proposed new plans including sites and costs to alleviate crowding at King's Daughters' Hospital, which is used by most Cowichan residents.

CHEMAINUS—Hugh Galvin was elected president of Canadian Legion, Branch 191, Chemainus, at the recent annual meeting.

Others elected were R. J. Duncan, vice-president; William Jackson, second vice-president; and Harry Otto, sergeant-at-arms.

Executive members include Thomas Cook, F. Deacon, Earl English, H. Baillie, Jr., and Martin Van Cooten.

PORT ALBERNI—A fine of $200 was imposed by Magistrate A. Crozier in Port Alberni police court yesterday on Clarence Rene Lefebvre, charged as an interdict in possession of liquor.

A six-month jail term was the alternative to the fine. The magistrate explained to the accused that the fine was the minimum set for second offenders on the charge.

William Holgarth, appearing on an impaired driving charge, was fined $75 or 10 days. His licence was suspended for 30 days.

The charge followed an accident at the corner of 10th Avenue and Rogers Street.

ALBERNI—A hunter found his way out of the woods here Saturday night as Alberni Valley Rescue Squad was organizing a search party.

Police notified Chris Holcombe of the rescue squad at 8 p.m. when Bill Mesherity failed to return from a hunting trip on the mountain above Highway 4. Soon after the missing man made his way out of the woods.

NANAIMO (CP)—A brief asking the provincial government to bear the full cost of education of retarded children in British Columbia will be presented to the cabinet by the Nanaimo and District Labor Council.

The council took the decision Sunday night following receipt of a letter from Tom Barnett, campaign chairman for Alberni district chapter, Retarded Children's Association of B.C.

The letter asked that the council give "moral support" to the financial campaign and requested that unionists support the drive individually.

Other News Of Island On Page 12

PORT ALBERNI—Blame was divided between two drivers in a recent rear-end collision on River Road.

Russell Clinton Corey was fined $25 when he was charged in Alberni court with following too closely. Lucien Renault paid $10 after pleading guilty to driving with inadequate brake lights.

The accident occurred when Mr. Renault made a turn into the Sopass Auto Court. According to information given in court, he had used a hand signal to indicate the turn but the other driver was too close to be able to stop in time.

Also fined were Alexander Duncan Ricker, $15, for failing to stop at a stop sign at Beaver Creek and River Roads; Heinz Bruessler, $25, exceeding the 30-mile speed limit on Beaver Creek Road within the city limits; Jack F. Troutman, $25, exceeding the 30-mile speed limit on Beaver Creek Road within the city limits.

PORT ALBERNI—Funeral services will be held in First Baptist Church on Redford Street at 2 p.m. Wednesday for Mrs. Nellie Martha Walsh, who died Nov. 22 in St. Vincent's Hospital, Vancouver.

Mrs. Walsh was born in Guelph, Ont., in 1893, and came to B.C. 50 years ago.

She leaves her husband, Patrick Joseph, at the residence, 509 Burde Street; a son, John Martin Walsh, Brooklyn, Mass.; a daughter, Mrs. Frances Mary Gray, West Vancouver, and three grandchildren.

Rev. Peter Wiebe will conduct the service in the church. Interment will be made in the family plot, Alberni Valley Memorial Gardens.

PORT ALBERNI—A warning that further depredation in the Lacey Lake water basin may result in closure of the area to hunters was issued this week by a spokesman for Cherry Creek Improvement District board of directors.

He reported that an "irresponsible party had shot the lock from the gate and left the sluice of the dam open."

It is within the power of the board to close the area, he said.

Lacey Lake is the source of the water supply for the Cherry Creek system inaugurated last year.

PORT ALBERNI—RCMP here reported that two offices in the same building were entered over the weekend but nothing was missing from the premises.

Entry was gained to the building at 205 Third Avenue South by removal of metal bars from a rear window. The offices of Household Finance Co. Ltd. and C. A. Clouston, CA were entered.

ALBERNI—Rites will be held in Greenwood Cemetery at 10:30 Wednesday morning for Mark, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Evans, Smith Road. He is survived by his parents and a brother, Leonard, 2½.

Rev. Roy Rodgers will officiate at the graveside service.

CHEMAINUS—Church work in the community was discussed by Rev. J. J. Matthews at a recent meeting of the Chemainus Rotary Club.

Drama

Teacher Wins Award

The Canadian drama award, premier distinction for outstanding service to the amateur theatre in Canada, was last night given to Miss Christine McNab, 159 Cook.

A teacher at S. J. Willis Junior High School, Miss McNab has been actively associated with school and community drama for more than 20 years and has produced an entry in the school festival regularly for the past 19 years.

MANY TASKS

She has served as chairman of the Vancouver Island Regional Drama Festival and is a member of the executive of the B.C. Drama Association.

NEW CHAIRMAN

These awards were announced following the annual meeting of the governing committee last night held at the home of Dr. Roger Manning, 1823 Chestnut.

Retiring committee chairman Sir Robert Holland of Victoria was succeeded by Mrs. Gerald Rushton of Vancouver.

Palsy Group

Monthly Loss $1,000

The Cerebral Palsy Association of Lower Vancouver Island is losing more than $1,000 a month through operating costs, treasurer Donald Anderson said in a written report read last night at the fall general meeting of the association.

For the seven-month period since the association's last general meeting in April, the operating loss has mounted to $7,022.89, Mr. Anderson's report showed.

"It would take only two years at this rate of loss to fully deplete the association's reserve of $22,000," the report said.

The loss was blamed on the fact that each project assisted on by the association during the seven-month fiscal year was down from 1958 in money received.

Langford

Athletic Court Pondered

Plans for a combined basketball-lacrosse court in Centennial Park were discussed recently at a meeting of the Langford Recreation Commission.

The court will cost approximately $1,100 to complete and will be able to be converted into ice and roller rinks.

Other projects considered for the park at the commission meeting included soccer and baseball fields, shuffle and checker boards, and a children's playground.

Amateur Films

U.K. Best of '57

A special showing of the best British amateur movies of 1957 by the Victoria Amateur Movie Club will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in Christ Church memorial hall.

The films are of such high calibre they have been discussed on radio and shown on BBC television, a club official said.

Community Needs Paramount

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said last night the rights of the public and the rights of the family and community must be placed above the rights of any group, whether it be labor or management.

He said in a radio address that immediately the Trade Unions Act was enacted "there was a great hullabaloo from a small group of Socialists in and out of the labor movement."

"It was obvious from the outset that their main concern was their own political fortunes rather than the needs of the community," he said.
